DISARMPLANS PLEASING TO NAVY OFFICERS

Geneva Conference May Bring
U. S. Power on Exact
Equality With Britain

HOPE FOR BETTER SHIPS

Expect Tonnage Agreement to Be in Excess of Present American Strength

Washington.—Usually when a conference for the reduction of naval armament is in progress, naval officers are unhappy over the prospect of scrapping ships. Quite the contrary is the prevailing impression here as the reports of the Geneva conference are studied.

For various reasons the navy is absolutely in harmony with the department of state and the president. Perhaps it should be stated the other way—that the American mission at Geneva is reflecting the viewpoint of the American navy accurately. The truth is that at last for the American navy to be brought up to a position of equality with that of Great Britain, something which they did not feel was accomplished after the Washington treaty was made in 1922. And they also see that a more efficient use can be made of the funds available than before. Such scrapping of vessels as may be done especially of destroyers means to naval men that new vessels, better equipped and better built for speed will be available. As for cruisers, the United States has been conspicuously weak in this type of craft. When the conference at Geneva finally agrees on a definite limitation of tonnage, it doubtless will be a figure in excess of present strength. This means that so far as cruisers are concerned, the American navy will be built up rather than cut down.

CAV'S VIEW IS SURPRISE

There is an undercurrent of surprise manifested here and there in Washington that both President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg have accepted the navy viewpoint so completely and while the answer is not easily crystallized into a single reason it is apparent that the pressure from the big navy group in congress has gradually had its effect.

Congress has been on the verge of bigger building programs than the president thought necessary. He struggled against odds in the last congress and really lost his battle. He did manage to stave off larger appropriations, however, and there was no telling how far the big navy group in congress might have gone in programs for auxiliary craft in the event the president were left unrestricted by the Washington treaty. Now Mr. Coolidge having accepted the idea that a well-balanced navy can be secured with a moderate expenditure over a period of years, is hopeful that if the Geneva conference does nothing else it will at least place an upper limit on military craft in figuring out what sums must be allowed in the annual budgets hereafter for naval construction.

SEARCH FOR DROWNED ARMY AVIATOR'S BODY

Honolulu.—(AP)—Search for the body of Lieut. Charles L. Williams, army aviator who lost his life while participating in an aerial warfare demonstration here, for Lieut. Alvin C. Brown, who was killed in a crash landing here, occupied army and navy forces here Thursday.

Williams, said by the Star-Bulletin, to have been the fiancé of Mrs. Horace E. Dodge, recently divorced wife of the son of the wealthy automobile manufacturer, was drowned in the deep waters off Fort De Rusey, when his plane, one of the many used in the "Alone" to the flight heroes, failed to recover from a diving position and plunged into the sea.

The tragedy occurred within full view of Maitland and Hazenberger from the decks of the liner Maui and thousands who had assembled to see them off for San Francisco.

Lieut. Williams was a native of Arizona, 29 years old.

Mrs. Dodge was in Hawaii a few months ago, just before she obtained her divorce.

DENIES RUMOR Beverly Hills, Calif.—(AP)—Mrs. Horace Dodge, formerly of Detroit, denied here Thursday that Lieut. Williams was her fiancé. The report, credited to an island newspaper, she characterized as ridiculous.

RACINE MAN CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Miami, Fla.—(AP)—Fred Odus, wealthy inventor, formerly of Racine, was arrested here last Wednesday on two warrants charging manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident here a week ago in which two persons were killed. His trial probably will be called next week, court authorities said.

PREPARE FOR PARIS TO GOTHAM HOP

DETROIT MEN WANT TO CIRCLE EARTH IN FIFTEEN DAYS

Louisville, Ky.—(AP)—The Courier-Journal says Thursday that a group of Detroit men will attempt a flight to encircle the globe in fifteen days—half of the time of the present record. The proposed flight would be made in the Stinson monoplane.

Though formal announcement of the flight awaits the end of the present trip, it is hoped the tour will be made by the end of July. The take off is planned from a Detroit field and will be made eastward.

ARRANGE FOR NONSTOP TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

Flyers Will Have Paris, Rome and Unnamed City as Destinations

New York.—(AP)—An aerial parade across the Atlantic loomed as a possibility Thursday with the announcement of plans for four new nonstop flights from New York to Europe.

Spurred by the achievements of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd, the new expeditions disclosed elaborate plans for flights to Paris, Rome and to an unnamed destination in Europe, in planes ranging in size from Lindbergh's little Spirit of St. Louis to proportions greatly exceeding the giant America of Commander Byrd.

Veteran aviators, stunt flyers, one of them a woman, and a designer of a yet to be built steam driven biplane, were named as members of the new expeditions. Take offs from New York were announced for as early as next month and as late as next year.

Captain Rex Fonek, French war aviator, is preparing for a flight to Paris. Lloyd Bertaud, air mail pilot, deposited by Charles A. Levine, as copilot on the flight of the Bellanca monoplane Columbia, is planning a 3,000 mile ride to Rome.

Miss Gladys Roy, stunt flyer and parachute jumper, also is contemplating a journey to Rome.

Gottard Strohschein, Jersey City inventor and former Chicago minister, hopes to reach Europe in a giant steam driven biplane.

Fonek's plane is now being rushed to completion at College point. It is a Sikorsky and in a general way resembles the machine in which Fonek crashed on an attempted take off for Paris a year ago. The first test flight is planned early in August.

William Randolph Hearst is backing the Bertaud expedition. Construction of a Fokker monoplane originally planned for personal use by Mr. Hearst, is being rushed at Hasbrough Heights, N. J. It is expected to be ready for its first test flights within three weeks.

His flying range is estimated at 5,000 miles. Bertaud's flying companion is not expected to be named until shortly before starting time, in August.

Miss Roy and her copilot, Lieut. Delmar T. Snyder, are competitors of Bertaud in a proposed flight to Rome. Miss Roy announced at Cleveland that Minneapolis business men were backing her flight. She will have a Ryan monoplane, the same make as was used by Lindbergh.

Outlining his design for a giant steam driven biplane, Strohschein announced plans for a flight next year from New York to Europe in 18 or 20 hours. His machine, he said, would have two 1,000 horsepower steam turbine motors. Construction, he said, will start shortly, on a site already leased near Stapleton.

ITALIAN IS KILLED BY ASSASSIN IN CHICAGO

Chicago.—(AP)—Again, the third time within a fortnight, a gun has barked and an Italian has fallen dead in the street from bullets fired by assassins.

Peter Sansone, 32, was slain early Thursday as he stood near his home. His slayer stepped from a closed car, fired six times pointblank, calmly pocketed his revolver as he stood over his victim's body and then rejoined two companions in the automobile which was driven rapidly away. Police suggested a personal feud as the motive. Several months ago Sansone was slightly wounded in a gun fight.

WOMAN HOTEL OWNER IS NAMED IN $250,000 SUIT

Los Angeles.—(AP)—Lillian Curtis Gillette, owner of the Curtis hotel at Minneapolis, was named here Wednesday in a $250,000 suit for alienation of affections filed by Mrs. Martha Callahan, wife of John P. Callahan, of Kansas City. The Callahans were married in 1920.

Mrs. Gillette, whose second husband, Grant C. Gillette, a Los Angeles real estate man, was killed in an automobile accident a year ago, characterized the suit as "absurd."

FRENCHMAN TO BE PILOT ON RETURN TRIP

Chamberlin Will Instruct New Pilot in Peculiarities of Plane

Paris.—(AP)—Clarence Chamberlin will fly the Bellanca monoplane, Columbia, to London Friday with the as yet unnamed French pilot who will attempt a return flight across the Atlantic with Charles Levine, he told the Associated Press Thursday.

He will show the new pilot the controls and everything he needs to know about the peculiarities of the plane as well as give him the full benefit of the experience gained on the trans Atlantic flight. Chamberlin added.

He will leave the plane in London, to be returned to France by the French pilot, and himself will sail from Southampton on the Leviathan next Tuesday.

It is believed the pilot who will take the Columbia back to America will be either Captain Georges Pelletier Dolsy of Paris-to-Tokyo fame, or Lieut. Paul Larsson, who originally planned the trip across with the ill-fated Captain Coli and who since the failure of the Nungesser-Coli flight, has been working on plans for one of his own.

Chamberlin declined to comment on rumors current in Paris that there had been a break between himself and Levine.

"I would be perfectly willing to take the plane home myself," he said, "but I long ago made engagements that make it impossible."

Friends of the aviator also stated that arrangements concluded some time ago precluded his remaining in Europe any longer.

They did hint, however, that all was not too smooth between the two men and intimated that Chamberlin felt that Levine, without sufficient experience in aviation, had undertaken too much in the direction of the flight, especially in their round of visits to European cities.

CRITICIZE LEVINE'S IDEA

Levine's idea of having a French pilot fly the trans Atlantic plane Columbia back to the United States appears to have met a tepid reception in French air circles.

L'Aurore observes: "Mr. Levine's plan no doubt has been inspired by excellent fanophile sentiments, and from that viewpoint we must render him every homage, however, does it not seem to imply that we have not in France the necessary machines to effect a crossing, and that if a Frenchman wishes to succeed in making it he must use an American plane? That is not the case, thank heavens, and before long let us hope it will be possible to demonstrate."

GRACE GETS NEW PLANE FOR PACIFIC FLIGHT

Hana, Island of Kauai, Hawaii.—(AP)—Richard Grace, Hollywood stunt flyer, who crashed here Tuesday in an effort to take off for a flight to California, will have an entirely new plane in which he will take part in the competition for the Dole prizes of $35,000 for the first flight from the mainland to Hawaii after noon of August 12, according to Grace.

Byrd Plans Exploration Trip To Last Eight Years

Paris.—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd and the other members of the crew of the trans Atlantic monoplane America had their first long unbroken morning's sleep Thursday since their arrival in Paris.

They did not get out until nearly 11:30. It was then that the formal affairs of the day began with a reception by Fernand Bouisson, President of the Chamber of Deputies, and congratulatory letters from the French government.

Byrd took a few minutes before leaving his hotel for the chamber, to tell the Associated Press of his plans for seven or eight years exploration from the air, the most comprehensive scheme of his kind yet outlined by any aviator-explorer.

After his south pole flight, he would like to make an aerial voyage of exploration over the trackless forest of Brazil, then a good-will flight around South America to be followed by an expedition to Arabia.

His plans, the aviator explained, are subject to ratification by the American Navy department.

The commander pointed out that vast stretches of territory are still untouched and said great scientific results were to be obtained by carefully planned aerial journeys into the little known corners of the world.

A crowd from the aristocratic St. Germain quarter awaited the commander and his companions in front of the residence of the president of the chamber when they arrived there to be received by M. Bouisson.

Receiving the aviators in the president's room, M. Bouisson told them how closely he had watched their flight and how great he admired their courage in the face of stupendous odds.

Commander Byrd has impressed the French public with his character and ability by his conference with Lieut. L. E. Brix who will be navigator on the flight from Paris to New York which Drouhin hopes to start within 15 days.

In this conference the commander demonstrated the valuable nature of his great flight by the advice it enabled him to give the French flier. He urged them to make every possible use of him.

He suggested that Lieut. Brix call him in New York for anything he wanted right up to the time of his departure.

Secretary Wilbur sees no objection to the proposed South Pole flight by Commander Byrd. Furthermore he believes such an expedition, although extremely hazardous, would result in the gathering of valuable data about conditions in the antarctic.

The secretary made his position clear Thursday because of misleading dispatches carried abroad that, as Byrd's superior officer, he had voiced opposition to the polar flight. "I hate to see Commander Byrd risk his life," the secretary said. "But if he proposes to go to the south pole, the navy would interpose no objection."

SHEFFIELD VISITS WITH COOLIDGE AT RAPID CITY HOME

Mexican Ambassador Believes There Should Be No
Change in U. S. Attitude

Rapid City, S. D.—(AP)—Believing there would be no change in the American policy toward Mexico in the solution of the oil and land law problems between the two nations, James R. Sheffield, ambassador to Mexico, arrived at the summer white house early Thursday to be a guest of President Coolidge.

Declining to be drawn into any discussion of Mexican questions, the ambassador said he was looking forward to a few days' visit with the president to go over the latest developments in the relations between Mexico and the United States and then to a few weeks' trip in Europe for which he and Mrs. Sheffield hope to sail July 23, on the Berengaria.

The ambassador was expecting that after his visit with Mr. Coolidge he would be able to discuss Mexican affairs and perhaps have something to say in connection with repeated rumors of his desire to resign. "Until I have seen the president," he declared, upon alighting from his train which had brought him from New York, "I cannot discuss the Mexican situation."

To inquiries with respect to his future plans, Mr. Sheffield declined to comment, except to say that it was not he who had started the rumor that he might leave his post. The ambassador appeared to be in good health.

X-RAY MAY DISCLOSE RUBBER SUBSTITUTE

State College, Pa.—(AP)—The secret of synthetic rubber may be disclosed by the x-ray speakers Thursday told the Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical society in session at Pennsylvania State college.

George L. Clark, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Illinois, said that the experiments now in progress were revealing new knowledge of the fundamental properties of rubber which eventually may enable the chemist to produce a successful synthetic product.

TWO BADGERS APPOINTED TO ATTEND FLOOD MEET

Milwaukee.—(AP)—State Senator W. H. Markham, Horicon, and Ernest S. Bunch, Milwaukee, secretary of the Milwaukee Harbor commission will represent Wisconsin at the National conference on flood control in St. Louis, which opens Monday.

This was decided at a meeting Thursday at the office of Mayor Daniel Hoan who presided at the recent Wisconsin conference on flood control.

The Wisconsin representatives will seek the adoption of two points, that the regulation of the Mississippi flood should be attacked with consideration for all factions involved and that it should be directed by the federal government. The delegates said that if the Mississippi river commission does not adopt these two points that the fight will be carried to congress.

San Francisco.—(AP)—Physicians attending John Drew feared Thursday that the noted actor, 73, who has been ill in a hospital here since May 31, was near death. Hospital reports early Thursday said the stage veteran was very weak, while doctors doubted if he could live another 48 hours. Development of the septuagenarian's condition was very serious since he first became ill with arthritis in Portland, Ore., has gradually sapped his strength.

"This is but another act, and I am playing my part," he remarked occasionally during the illness. He has maintained consciousness even when the disease was at its worst.

Mr. and Mrs. James Devereaux, son-in-law and daughter, have been constantly at his bedside. Drew's nephew, John Barrymore, has made several visits here during his uncle's illness, and was expected to return from his Hollywood home Thursday.

JOHN DREW APPROACHING DEATH ON WEST COAST

COAST GUARD RUSHES AID TO STRANDED SHIP

Dutch Harbor, Alaska.—(AP)—Having picked up an S. O. S. of the motorship, Charles Brower, the United States Coast guard cutter, Alconquin, Thursday was rushing to the aid of the stranded vessel which reported she had gone aground at Post Cape, off St. Lawrence island in Bering sea and was being pounded severely by a heavy sea.

The schooner, Northern Light, also is speeding to the motor ship's assistance. The Charles Brower left Dutch Harbor Sunday, for the Arctic.

JAPAN FAVORS U. S. PROPOSAL FOR CRUISERS

Settlement of Problem Will Prevent Break Up of Conference

Geneva.—(AP)—Calm came Thursday to the tri-partite naval conference after Wednesday's hours of storm with the British, American and Japanese delegations armed with pencils, trying to devise some solution for the crucial problem which will prevent a break up of the conference. A British spokesman said Thursday that both the American and Japanese experts appear to have misunderstood the British figures and that an agreement could be reached if everyone would realize that Great Britain does not intend to include projected building programs in her cruiser figures but only ships actually appropriated for.

Indications now exist that the British have been impressed with the Japanese advocacy of the American move for a low cruiser limitation. In her proposal submitted at Wednesday's private meeting Japan adhered to a system of linking cruisers and destroyers and is understood to have announced that she will accept a total tonnage of 300,000 for all auxiliary surface craft. This Japanese estimate is conditional upon an agreement that the United States and Great Britain would accept for themselves 450,000 tons each of cruisers and destroyers combined.

Japan also is understood to have requested 70,000 tons of submarines which is some 16,000 tons in excess of the maximum American suggestion for submarines to be allocated to Japan. This proposal would mean that Japan is supporting the American figures for surface craft, but wants some preferential position regarding submarines.

The original proposal was that the combined tonnage of both the cruiser and destroyer classes should not exceed 550,000 tons at any time for the United States and Great Britain and that Japan should not exceed 330,000 tons. Japan now proposes 300,000 tons for herself while on the basis of 450,000 tons for the United States and Great Britain, would give her a position somewhat improved over the 5-5-3 ratio fixed at Washington for capital ships.

GANG LEADER SEEKS A SEPARATE TRIAL

Accuses Former Aide, Also on Trial, of Trying to "Get"
Him

Benton, Ill.—(AP)—A determined effort was made Thursday to obtain a separate trial for Charles Birger, gang leader, and Ray Hyland, jointly accused with Art Newman, Birger's former chief lieutenant, of the murder of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City.

Birger and Hyland asserted in their motion for severances that Newman had made damaging admissions which would involve them and that Newman had stated he would testify against Birger in an effort to hang him, even though it would require false testimony. The panel of prospective jurors was dismissed from the court room while Judge C. P. Miller heard arguments on the motion which was opposed by State's Attorney Roy C. Martin. Robert E. Smith, defense attorney, objected to a joint trial because Newman had left the state to go to California and "fought bitterly to prevent his return."

ONEIDA INDIAN FAILS IN 43-MILE ENDURANCE RUN

Green Bay.—(AP)—After running 17 1/2 miles of his attempted 43 mile course, Chief Tall Feather an Oneida Indian, who recently ran a marathon between Milwaukee and Chicago, gave up his unique race here Wednesday afternoon. Tall Feather, who attempted to run a mile for every year of his age, said the wind was too strong to finish the run. Levi Webster is the name of the Oneida Indian who is a member of the city water department.

700 MOVIE ACTORS ASK FOR 8-HOUR WORKING DAY

Hollywood.—(AP)—Seven hundred actors and actresses comprising the greater part of the leading film players, at a mass meeting Wednesday night voted to join the Motion Picture branch of the Actors Equity association and draft a program of working conditions. The program adopted declared for a basic agreement between actors and producers, a standard contract and an eight hour day.

The vote on the resolution to join the equity and adopt the working program will pass unanimously actors in charge of the meeting said.

The basic agreement was said to outline the powers to be given to both producers and actors, state the actors' privileges in the choice of plays to which he was assigned, and provide for other relationships between producer and player.

WORLD'S LARGEST VOLCANO DISPLAYS LAVA FIREWORKS

Hilo, Hawaii.—(AP)—Kilauea, the largest active volcano in the world, began erupting early Thursday. Lava flowed from its Halemaumau crater in a marvelous pyrotechnic display before dawn. The flow of liquid rock was accompanied by subterranean explosions, with fountains of fire.

The glowing stream slowly moved into the bottom of the huge fire pit which had been empty since July, 1924, except for occasional jets of sulphurous steam and one avalanche of rocks projected with smoke and volcanic dust.

LEAGUE HEADS SHARPEN AXE FOR JOHNSON

American Club Owners to Hold Special Meeting
at New York

St. Louis, Mo.—(AP)—A special New York dispatch to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Thursday says American League club owners and representatives will meet there Friday to consider whether Byron Bannett Johnson, president of the league, shall continue in office. He is under contract until 1935 at a salary of $10,000 a year.

President Johnson was reported as confirming over the long distance telephone from Chicago that a meeting of the club owners was scheduled, but as declining to comment on the purpose of the meeting.

"The indignation against Johnson, which has smoldered for several years and which reached a peak last winter when Johnson was given leave of absence to regain his health, died down for a time," the dispatch says.

"Recent rulings by President Johnson since his active resumption of office offended Connie Mack and other owners. Friday, Johnson, according to reliable inside information, will be asked to step down if he does not voluntarily resign. Ed Barrow of the Yankees, or E. S. Barnard of the Cleveland club are prominently mentioned as possible successors in case the one-time czar of baseball retires or 'gets the gate'."

GANGSTER GETS DEATH SENTENCE FOR MURDER

Marion, Ill.—(AP)—Radio Millich and Eural Gowan, Birger gangsters, were found guilty Thursday of murdering Ward, "Casey" Jones, a fellow gunman, last October. Millich was sentenced to death and Gowan to twenty-five years imprisonment.

The Gowan-Millich trial was the first Birger gang case to be placed before a jury and had lasted long enough to overlap in time the trial of Charlie Birger himself at Benton for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City.

Jones, according to testimony, was killed by Millich in a quarrel as to which one of them was in charge of "Shady Rest," Birger's fortified retreat between Marion and Harrisburg.

REGULAR ARMY SOLDIERS NEED PERMITS TO FISH

Madison.—(AP)—United States regular army men and members of the National Guard have no right to hunt or fish in Wisconsin, neither on their own reservations or off of it without a state license, Attorney General Reynolds held in an opinion today.

The opinion was in answer to a request made by Elmer S. Hall, Conservation commissioner, following the complaint of residents of Monroe county that enlisted men and officers were hunting and fishing without state permits.

The attorney general held that United States soldiers had no more right to violate state statutes than other citizens and the fact that "the United States government holds title to the land does not take it out of the state of Wisconsin."

He also held that "such violations by army men are subject for arrest."

MAJOR SAYS TRAVEL BY AIR IS GETTING SAFER

San Diego, Calif.—(AP)—In 12 years travel by air will be safer than any other method of transportation man employs, Major General Mason M. Patrick, of the army air service, told San Diegans at a luncheon in his honor Wednesday.

"Flying is getting safer," he said. "We measure this by the number of accidents for miles flown and these figures are better, motors are better, and men know more about air travel than they did."

The federal men declined to give the name of the vessel pending further investigation.

ILLINOIS AND IOWA HIT BY WIND AND HAIL

Heavy Property and Crop
Damages Result from Sudden Tornado

BATHERS ARE IMPERILED

500 People at Church Carnival Stricken When Storm Hits

Chicago.—(AP)—A storm, tornado in Henry-co, Iowa, and which was accompanied in Illinois by high winds, hail and heavy downpours, cost two lives, injured nine persons and caused heavy property and crop damage in the two states Wednesday night.

The storm hit suddenly, routing a new heat wave which had descended upon two states during the day. It was of comparatively short duration but much rain fell, and there were hailstorms over the entire storm area.

In Chicago, what was a dead calm one minute was shrieking windstorm the next whirling sheets of rain through the streets. The storm came while thousands of bathers still were at the beaches. Many sought to save themselves from the pelting hail at lack by submerging up to their necks in the water.

Three deaths had occurred in the city as a result of the brief day of heat that preceded the storm.

There were numerous reports of houses being unroofed in the storm belt. The wind blew so hard that Joe Powers, sitting atop the Morrison flagpole attempting "to shatter the world's record sitting record," almost disappeared. Lightning was playing all about him and his slender person bent under the powerful winds. Eventually he determined to stick it out after sending down a hurry call for more blankets.

Panic resulted among 500 persons attending a church carnival when the wind tore down tents and tipped over a Ferris wheel. One man was struck by a falling tent pole and his neck was broken. Doctors do not expect him to live.

STORM AT ROCKFORD

Rockford, Ill.—(AP)—A hail storm of serious proportions struck a section north of Rockford Wednesday night. It was reported over the telephone by Chief of Police Ambrose Hodge. Great damage to crops was reported by farmers of the section, the chief said.

3 DROWN WHEN SPEED BOAT CATCHES FIRE

Sudbury, Ontario.—(AP)—W. L. Hodgkins, 32, president of the Brownell improvement Co. of Chicago, and prominent socially and two members of his crew drowned Wednesday night in a fire on a speed boat. The boat, a "Playboy" had caught fire. Four others who were in the craft saved themselves either by swimming or holding onto floating cushions from the burning boat.

James Rush, Little Current, Ontario, the speedboat's mechanic, and Thomas Fishman, Chicago, deckhand, drowned with Hodgkins. It is thought Rush lost his life attempting to rescue his companions.

The bodies had not been recovered this morning.

James Otis and Miss Nancy Smith, both of Chicago, who were preceding to Mr. Hodgkins' summer camp at McGregor bay swam a half mile to the shore of Mary Island, Ed Brolet, a guide, and Edgar Crasnow, Chicago, coach, reached La Crosse, and by clinging to floating cushions, the boat caught fire when the engines backfired.

FIND GUNS AND SHELLS IN BALES OF "HARDWARE"

New York.—(AP)—Government agents Thursday arrested three men on a steamer tied up at an East River pier, following the discovery of 350 rifles and 100,000 rounds of ammunition in bales addressed to Tumaco, Colombia.

The agents said the rifles and ammunition had been secreted in bales labeled "hardware" and "cotton batting."

The men, who said their names were Enrique Cennaro, Vicent Gonzalez and Harold Tatters, were questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Frank Connelley, who said they had been "in South American revolution had been nipped in the bud."

The federal men declined to give the name of the vessel pending further investigation.

ALDERMEN AGAIN DEFEAT EFFORT FOR BUSINESS SECTION

Council Indefinitely Defers Ordinance Affecting Green-spoon Property

Another attempt to have the J. Greenspoon property at the corner of 12 Wisconsin-ave. and N. Aldine placed in a local business district was defeated by the common council Wednesday night when an ordinance creating a district at that corner was indefinitely postponed. The owners of this property have been trying for the last year to have this corner placed in a business district but the plan commission has decided there is no need for it at the present time and the council is following the commission's advice.

Attorney C. E. Behnke, appearing for Greenspoon, told the council his client would improve his property if he was granted a permission to build a store. He presented a petition, signed by 50 property holders in the vicinity of the store, asking that the corner be placed in a business district. He also presented an affidavit from Greenspoon in which he promised to "clean up the junk yard if the ordinance was adopted."

DON'T NEED STORE
"The plan commission has investigated conditions on Wisconsin-ave. and feels there is no need for a business district," Mayor Rule said. "The people who signed this petition have appeared before the commission and admitted they do not need the store. The only reason they wish to have a business district is because the owner has promised to remove the junk pile which has been an eye sore for years. If you adopt this ordinance you must establish other business districts every corner on that street."

At this juncture Alderman Vogt introduced a resolution which provided that Chudacoff's grocery a block west of the Greenspoon corner also be placed in a local district.

Mayor Rule objected.
"I object to the coming ordinance," he said. "But as long as we have it I am going to follow it. This piece of legislation has caused more trouble since I have been in office than any other, but its here and we must enforce it. We have a plan commission composed of men who know their business. It is wrong for us to appoint such men to serve on commissions and then ignore them. We cannot keep going over their heads. If we do that they will refuse to serve and the city will be the loser. They feel there is no need for a business district on Wisconsin-ave at present and I think we should follow their advice."

The matter was put to a motion and was indefinitely postponed.
Then the council got riled up over the purchase of a tractor and a prolonged discussion ensued. At the last council meeting two bids for a tractor for the street department were received and were referred to the streets and bridges committee for investigation and a report. The committee investigated but was deadlocked 2 to 3 on this recommendation.

One company submitted bids for a 5 and 6-ton tractor and the other offered a bid for a 5-ton tractor only.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER INJURED IN COLLISION

Gus Herserkorn, motorcycle officer, was injured when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by Fred Schreiber, 104 Second-st., Monday, on S. Onondaga-st. in front of the Lake Superior Knitting Works about 7:30 Wednesday evening. Herserkorn was attempting to avoid hitting another machine which stopped ahead of him and his machine skidded into the Schreiber car. His right shoulder and arm and the right side of his face were badly bruised and he was cut and grazed.

Herserkorn was taken to his home where he will be confined for several days. The front wheel, fork and mudguard of the motorcycle were damaged and the fenders on Schreiber's car were bent.

Mike Steinhauer, chairman of the committee, wanted the 6-ton machine and two of the committeemen agreed with him.

The deadlock on the size of the tractor was broken by the mayor who thought the 5-ton machine would be satisfactory. The difference in price is $750. Then the committee deadlocked on which tractor to buy.

The matter went into the committee of the whole where Alderman W. H. Gmeiner objected to buying either tractor without a local demonstration of each one. He said the streets and bridges committee had investigated one machine but had not gone into the other as thoroughly. The council voted to buy one machine but later reconsidered the action and finally referred the matter to the streets and bridges committee with instructions to make a definite report at the next meeting.

The Caterpillar 5-ton tractor costs $5,517 and the Monarch tractor costs $3,515. The Monarch also submitted a bid on a 6-ton machine at $4,125.

SEWERS MUST BE IN FOR YEAR BEFORE STREET IS PAVED

Council Adopts Rule Governing Future Street Improvements

Despite the protest of Alderman C. A. Thompson, the common council adopted a resolution at its meeting Wednesday night which provides that in the future all sewer, water and gas mains must be installed at least a year before a street will be paved.

Alderman Thompson said the order is unwise because it could not be binding on a new council and is only a piece of useless legislation.

The resolution was introduced by Alderman Mike Steinhauer, chairman of the streets and bridges committee, who pointed out the trouble on several streets because sewers and water mains were laid just before the pavement. He said the ground did not settle properly in the short time that elapsed between laying sewers and paving the street.

Alderman Thompson also opposed a measure which provided that in the future only 25 feet of any new pavement might be charged against the property owner. This measure was introduced by Alderman George T. Richard who said every year the council heard the objections from property holders who did not want to pay the entire cost of pavement that was wider than 24 or 25 feet. He said heavy traffic streets had to be made wider but he said the extra-width should be paid for by the city instead of the tax payer.

The motion was withdrawn after Thompson's objection.

"We should take more time over a resolution which will govern future policies," Thompson said. He pointed out that some streets were business streets and required a wider pavement and he said he believed the property owners there should pay for the wider pavement.

A final hearing on assessments of benefit and damages for the pavement on Washington-st. brought forth a number of objections to paying the entire cost of the pavement. The property owners said they were being made to pay for 37-foot pavement, much wider than is necessary for their own use. They said they could see no reason for why they should pay for a street built extra wide so it can be used for car parking.

Alderman Steinhauer presented a resolution that property owners pay for 32 feet of the pavement, but Thompson's amendment that 25 feet be assessed against the property was adopted.

The council granted a petition to abandon plans for a sewer on S. Weinmer-st. from E. Newberry to E. John-sts. The petition was signed by property owners owning a frontage of 4394 feet of a total 7900 feet. The petition asking for the sewer had been signed by property owners with 3200 feet frontage.

MOORE IS SPEAKER AT DENTAL MEETING

Appleton Man Scheduled to Deliver Address at State Convention

Milwaukee—(P)—Professional topics which will be reviewed by nation-wide and state authorities constitute the principal features of the Wisconsin State Dental Society's annual convention, opening here July 12.

An executive council meeting will officially open the convention, which will last for three days. George A. Stratton, president of the society, will deliver the opening message. A banquet and the annual golf tournament Sunday and Monday, respectively, preceded the regular convention business sessions.

Among the leaders of the profession who are scheduled to speak before the state group are Hugh W. MacMillan, Cincinnati; James Mark Prime, Omaha; Stanley D. Tyman, Chicago; Dayton Dunbar Campbell, Kansas City; Milton Cohen, New York; Howard C. Miller, Chicago; Dr. C. N. Johnson, Chicago; Ethel M. Rice, and a score of state dentists.

The majority of the sessions will be devoted to discussion of a highly technical nature, dealing with recent innovations in the treatment of various dental disorders. Clinics will be conducted during the meeting.

Governor Fred R. Zimmerman will speak before the convention Wednesday noon, July 13. Among the state speakers on the program are J. H. Koller, Wausau; Sherman L. Day, Bloomington; L. H. Moore, Appleton; Claude H. Ritsch, Beaver Dam; L. B. Gilling, Green Bay; A. C. Gifford, Oshkosh; W. G. Hollingsworth, Sheboygan; J. W. Crawford, Milwaukee; H. A. Wagner, Sheboygan, and many Milwaukee dentists.

The convention will close Thursday afternoon with a final business session.

The city hall was given to Marston Brothers company and the contract for furnishing coal for other city buildings was awarded to the Fraser-Commertz company.

Applications for sewers on the following streets were referred to the streets and bridges committee: Tululah-av from E. Candee to E. John-sts; Superior-st; N. Union-st; Spruce-st; College-ave to Eighth-st. A petition to abandon plans for a water main on N. Bennett-st from Elsie to Oakloma-sts was granted.

The contract for the new doors at the fire station was awarded to George Ashman for $670. Martin Boldt and Sons was the only other bidder.

REVISE ORDINANCES RELATING TO DOGS RUNNING AT LARGE

Vogt's Efforts to Curb "Dog Nuisance" Finally Meet
Success

After a prolonged discussion on how to abate the loose dog nuisance the common council ordered the ordinance committee and Alfred C. Bosser, city attorney, to take present ordinances, and a new ordinance proposed by Alderman Phillip Vogt and build them into one new law which will solve the problem.

Several weeks ago Alderman Vogt introduced an ordinance but it was voted down. He immediately introduced another which was referred to the ordinance committee. The committee recommended Wednesday evening that Vogt's measure be adopted.

Vogt criticized Alderman Catlin, who was absent from the meeting, for calling a meeting of the ordinance committee without notifying all members.

"Some time ago Alderman Catlin severely rebuked an alderman for authorizing certain improvements as chairman, without calling a meeting of the committee," Alderman Vogt said, "and tonight I find a report of the ordinance committee of which Mr. Catlin is chairman, and I, who am a member of that committee, never received notice of a meeting. It looks to me as if Mr. Catlin feels that when the other fellow does it, it is all wrong but when he does it, it is all right."

Vogt consented to accept the report of the committee and to permit adoption of the resolution which compels owners of dogs to keep them tied from May 1 to Sept. 1.

George T. Prim, chief of police, said the old ordinance was not adequate and he advised that both ordinances be reconsidered and made into one, that would be effective.

If the city will permit the Chicago and Northwestern railroad to install wig-wag warning signals at grade crossings in Appleton in place of the present safety gates and watchmen, the railroad will pay half the cost of a signal lighting system for the intersection of W. College-ave with Cherry and Richmond-sts. This offer was presented to the common council Wednesday night by Mayor Tuile who said the railroad had made the suggestion in a letter to him.

The railroad proposes to abolish gates and watchmen from the following grade crossings: Meade-st, Lawe and Union-sts, Winnebago-st, Drew and Hancock-st, Durkee and Atlantic-sts, Pacific and Morrison-sts, Superior-st, N. Division-st, N. State-st, Locust and Lawrence-sts. If, after 90 days trial, the wig-wags prove satisfactory, they will be installed on Onondaga-st, Appleton-st and Bates-st. The wig-wags are to be controlled from towers by a watchman. One watchman will control the signals at three intersections.

The company said this method is rapidly replacing the old safety gate and watchman system and was more effective. The matter was referred to the streets and bridges committee which was instructed to confer with railroad engineers.

On recommendation of the streets and bridges committee the council authorized the purchase of a carload of materials to be used for street repairs. The street committee also was instructed to purchase gravel from Frank Murphy, Little Chute, at $1.70 per yard to be used for street repairs. Several applications for street lights and sidewalks were granted.

Application for a water main on S. Summit-st from W. Fourth-st to W. Prospect-ave was referred to the fire and water committee.

COOLIDGE GREASES PATH TO 3RD TERM CHOICE IN 1928

Groundwork of Nomination and Election Structure Laid
With Great Care

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington — The Republican elephant, still displaying that ease and grace of movement with which it has generally stifled competition since the Civil War, is stamping down with both forefoot upon every spot which presents the possibility of trouble in 1928.

Calvin Coolidge rides in the seat of the mahout. It is he who has been personally directing counter-offensives on all fronts almost before an opposition could get started.

On at least three battlefronts — South Dakota, New York and Illinois — warfare is being carried on openly. Politics, as everyone concedes, dictated the choice of South Dakota as a vacation site. But the president is aiming his trusty slingshot at more birds than one.

South Dakota, in the heart of the more or less deserted farm belt, borders with most of the states where the president and his party are likely to encounter trouble next year. Montana, which votes for such men as Wheeler, Tom Walsh and LaFollette; North Dakota, which harbors Nye and Frazier; Minnesota, which kicked Kellogg out of the Senate and sent Shipstead to Iowa; and Nebraska, which boasts of Norris and Howell.

From all these states it is just a step across the border to see the president and be properly impressed. The glory of his presence radiates across state lines.

PRIMARY LAW FACTOR
Also, South Dakota has a peculiar primary law. High spots of her progressive primary formerly came in September, November and March. The legislature has shoved these dates back, but South Dakota remains at least as valuable a weather-vane in the presidential primaries as Maine is in an election.

The first skirmish of the 1928 primaries in both parties takes place in February, when South Dakota's precincts and counties vote on delegates to the proposal primary in March, which names state and national tickets for the people to vote on in the popular primary in May. Candidates for the convention must declare themselves for a presidential candidate as well as for state officials and when the vote is unscrambled, some candidate for the nomination has won a victory.

South Dakota's delegation is small, and the value of victory in the February election is psychological. Psychology in national politics is important and it is highly desirable that Coolidge's first break in the campaign be a candidate for renomination. He lost the 1924 popular primary in South Dakota to Hiram Johnson, after Johnson had been licked in convention, and while that did him no harm, a repetition next year might be the signal for some of the other ambitious party leaders to start pushing the third term band wagon over the top.

DEMOCRATS THERE, TOO
Thus, South Dakota will be the site of one of the fiercest battles in all the 1928 doings. Most of the fighting and trading will be under cover, despite the fact that the primary law was enacted and tinkered with to provide an ideal system.

Democrats will be equally interested in their own show and Al Smith forces doubtless are already on the job. McKelvie opened up in South Dakota in 1924. Refusing to announce his candidacy, he sent emissaries there to swing the primary for him and thus give voice to an imperative call for McKelvie to run for the nomination. He himself wrote the platform which was to be adopted by the Democratic convention for his acceptance, although for purposes of public consumption it was all supposed to be a surprise to him.

The president's attack in New York apparently is premature on the candidacy of Governor Smith. Mr. Coolidge is doing everything possible to strengthen the position of the party in the Empire state. The patronage system is being worked for all it is worth and the Al Smith casualties have been well taken care of. Appointment of Ogden Mills and Seymour Lowman as assistant secretaries of the administration's solicitude for the New York faithful. Jobs such as these two New Yorkers now hold possess great power.

Noted Politician Wins World Fame As Magician

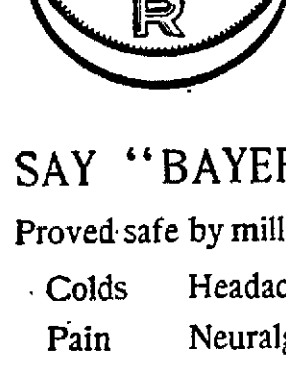

BY ALLEN SUMNER
Kenton, O.—They called it "Bill Durbin's chicken coop" when, some 30 years ago, "Colonel" W. W. Durbin of this inland river city built his now world-famous "Egyptian Hall."

During those 30 years the great earth have journeyed to see "Bill Durbin's chicken coop," and the Main Street town, which once sneered and teased, is now known as the town where "Magician Bill Durbin" lives.

"Roarin' Bill" is president of the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and when the other magicians were an amorous advance toward Mayor Big Bill Thompson of Chicago, who is relied upon to wreck Lowden's hopes for a majority of the Illinois delegation at the convention. Big Bill was officially recognized as sponsor of the Chicago flood conference and the welcome mat is out for him at the White House or in the Black Hills.

In fact, nothing will be too good for Big Bill if he comes to see the light. Both the New York and Illinois tickets are being used in South Dakota, with the result that the insurgent Senator Peter Norbeck already is regarded to have been taken into camp as a Coolidge Republican.

Three of Norbeck's South Dakota friends have recently been made members of the Shipping Board, an official of the Shipping Board and a member of the Vocational Training Board. Norbeck has also obtained from the president for his friends the prohibition commission, the United States marshalship and other federal plums in South Dakota.

He has been chairman of the state Democratic executive committee and in that capacity had the little habit of making Democratic majorities in sections fundamentally Republican.

IT KEPT HIM GOING
During the last 30 years when he has been "getting on" in the world of big affairs, it has been his "chicken coop" that sustained him, he says.

The "chicken coop," or Egyptian Hall, almost hugs Durbin's back door. It is flanked by the roses and peonies and larkspur which Mrs. Durbin, for some reason or other, insists on raising in the good old-fashioned way even in that white hall her husband can make trees and flowers and bushes spring full-grown from the floor or a table.

The interior of "the chicken coop" is decorated a la Egyptian. It is a regular theater playhouse. There is a 24-foot stage and seats for 125 persons. Backstage is thousands of dollars' worth of magical apparatus.

KEEP HALL LOCKED
Egyptian Hall has an international reputation among magicians as housing the greatest collection on magical apparatus in the world. But Mrs. Bill Durbin has orders to keep it locked. It is shown only to those with proper credentials, as the magical brotherhood is sworn to protect its secrets.

Mrs. Durbin is, perhaps, the least enthusiastic about his prowess. "His magic is fine alibiing," she says. "If I want the lawn mowed or

ORGANIZE TRIP TO EXPERIMENTAL FARM

Outagamie-co Farmers Charter
Bus for Visit to Sturgeon
Bay

A large group of Outagamie-co farmers are expected to go to Sturgeon Bay, on Thursday, July 14, to inspect the branch experiment station of the college of agriculture, University of Wisconsin. The trip has been planned by Robert Amundson, county agricultural agent. It will be the first time that the farmers of Outagamie-co have taken a trip of this nature, according to Mr. Amundson, and a capacity crowd is expected.

A special bus has been chartered by the county agent and members of the party will share the expense. The estimated cost of the round trip will be $3.50 to $4 per person. The bus is to start from Appleton at 7 o'clock in the morning and will go to Black Creek via Highway 47. Stops will be made along the road to pick up farmers who desire to make the trip. From Black Creek it will go to Seymour and pick up the farmers gathered there.

"The trip will be interesting and a screen fixed or some ice cream from the corner he's always in the midst of saving a woman in two or three eggs in a skillet and having them turn into ducks, or some such foolery. His magic may have prolonged his days, but as for mine—

"Well, it's kept him out of mischief!"

the farmers will have an opportunity to see how work is carried on at the experimental station," Mr. Amundson said. "It is the first time I have tried to interest the farmers in a project of this nature and they are showing a big interest."

It is at the experiment station that new methods of farming are tried out. Modern machinery is tested and different methods of planting, harvesting, seeding and caring for crops are given a trial.

COUNCIL GRANTS 23 PERMITS FOR DRINK "PARLORS"

Herziger Plat of 60 Lots Accepted—Order Rail Crossings Repaired

Neenah—Twenty-three licenses were granted by the city council Wednesday evening to proprietors of soft drink parlors to sell non-intoxicating liquors. Licenses were given to Golden brothers, Charles Schultz and son, DePot Grocery, T. Sharp, Kenneth Miller, Ivan Stipp, M. E. Barnett, Charles Engler, Frank Nigelo, J. C. Harper, A. Peterson, Mrs. Margaret Christensen, Schultz brothers, Knights of Pythias, Weinko brothers, E. F. Lenz, Drabheim and Pingle, William Hall, H. E. Skakke, Pauline Dorn and A. E. Erdman. Licenses to operate pooltables were granted to Kenneth Miller, Drabheim and Pingle and H. E. Skakke. The plat of 20 acres on Nicolet-blvd. made by Louis Herziger approved by the planning commission was adopted by the council. The plat has been divided into 60 residential lots. The plat provides for continuing Hewitt-st. east to connect with a new street. In order to make a continuous street at the east boundary of plat from Nicolet-blvd. to Forest-ave. and on through to Menasha to connect with Park-st., the city of Menasha is to cut off a 15 foot strip from the east side of its park in order to have Park-st. conform in width with the new street on the Herziger plat. Twelfth-st. will be continued south to connect with E. Forest-ave. The stakes for the grade of S. Commercial-st. pavement for a distance of about 150 feet, placed by the city engineer, had been tampered with and the grade was raised between six and eight inches over the grade given by the engineer. The responsibility is to be determined by the board of public works before the street is accepted. Railway crossings were reported to be in bad condition and should be repaired at once. Action will be started at once by the city attorney to have the building on First-st. owned by Miss Edgarton, removed or torn down. Ordinances regulating traffic and parking during the construction of the new bridges were repealed. An effort will be made to save the shore line of Lake Winnebago along the road from E. Wisconsin-ave. and around Riverside park by authorizing the street department to use discarded cement pavements, brick and other hard material as a breakwater. Monthly reports of the police, poor and justice departments were presented and accepted. A resolution to build a sidewalk on S. Commercial-st. from Third-ave. south to connect with the walk on the south end of the street, was adopted. A similar resolution to build a walk on Third-st. from Harrison-st. west also was adopted. The finance committee reported on bills amounting to $21,495.65.

"Thanks to Drego I can now eat what I want to without fear of indigestion. I am entirely free of the rheumatism, and when I go to bed at night I sleep like a log till it's time to get up in the morning. I can't praise Drego too highly for the great benefits it has brought me."

BADGER PAINT STORES HAVE GREAT GROWTH

Proof that the Badger Paint Stores Inc. is growing fast is found in the fact that eight new stores were opened in Milwaukee and five in other cities throughout the state this year. The chain began just nine years ago with only one small store owned by Robert Jacobi and Eric Erdman, president and vice president of the Badger Paint Stores, Inc. in Milwaukee. The chain has increased so that now there are 40 stores, 21 in Milwaukee, 2 in Illinois and 17 located in various Wisconsin towns including Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Watertown, Waukesha, Madison, Racine, Kenosha, Oconomowoc, Beaver Dam, Wausau, Green Bay, Sheboygan and Appleton.

A four story paint and varnish factory including offices and warehouse at 49th and State street, Milwaukee occupying three acres is the nucleus of the Badger chain. Spring business has been so brisk, however, that the plant has been working overtime to take care of the increased volume of business.

"Judging from our sales" said Mr. Erdman, more people than usual are doing their painting themselves. We do most of our business with the householder who likes to take his own paint and go home to do his own repainting. Our sales show that the public is using more paint than ever this year.

"We make our own paint and varnish and sell it directly to the consumer through our chain of stores," said Mr. Jacobi. Accordingly we put what we save on shipping and the elimination of the middleman into paint that gives the best service possible at the lowest price we can offer."

"IRON HORSE" IS CROWDING POOR OLD DOBBIN OFF FARM

FLEETS OF TRACTORS RAPIDLY REPLACING HORSE IN WISCONSIN

Mechanical Equipment Makes Possible Three or Four Times Work of Past

Madison, (AP)—Roaring motors and the steady grind of "iron horses" on Wisconsin farms presages a new era of mechanical equipment, F. W. Duff, University of Wisconsin agriculturist, believes.

Steadily the Wisconsin farmer has been augmenting tractor fleets and machinery which together with increased electrification, he prophesies, will ultimately see the passing of "old Dobbin."

"Breakin' ground, the first step in field operation," he said, "has been going on at an accelerated rate all the time. The preparation of seed beds formerly was heavy, hard and slow work. A man with a team of horses would plow a field in two or three days. Now it can be done in one day."

"Today, however, a man with a two plow tractor can do three or four times as much work with less than half the energy. Providing he is able to get his machinery properly adjusted, he can get off the tractor and walk along, affording safety and rest."

"Tremendous improvements have taken place in the tractor in the last five years. It used to be hard to handle and cumbersome, but now they are almost as easily driven as the modern pleasure car. The tractor engines purr along and the improved fields trail in the wake."

"Since the invention of mechanical seeders, this branch of farm operation has not been particularly hard. No striking changes have been made in recent years although the seeders are being slowly improved. Corn planting has about the same status as the seeders generally."

TWO ROW CULTIVATOR
"Most of the corn is cultivated with one row cultivators but the farmers are beginning to realize that just as good work can be done with two row cultivators. Twice as much work can be accomplished in the same amount of time if the two row cultivators are used. Even four-row machines are being used for large level farms."

"The invention of the hay loader lightened farm work considerably and, although it has been known for some time, the improvements of recent times have served to increase its efficiency. No change to speak of has been made in grain harvesting."

"Harvesting corn is probably the hardest job on the farm and the only means of lightening the work is to go easier."

"Modern inventions applicable to farm barns have been striking and useful. Water is available, when and where the farmers want it. Electricity lights the barns and time and labor is saved accordingly. The farm house and barn can have all the conveniences of city homes through use of the electric power."

"Prof. Duff predicts that the majority of Wisconsin farmers in a few years will be supplied electric power from central companies. Electric feed grinding machines constitute one of the most recent developments along this line, he said."

JOHN HENKE REMODELING BASEMENT OF HIS BARN

John Henke, route 5, is remodeling the basement of his barn and laying a cement floor, 12 by 100 feet in his barnyard along the entrance to his stables. A part of the improvement is the building of a new wall to his barn, with a large number of openings for the admission of light. This change will supply additional space 20 feet wide the entire length of his stables. Mr. Henke is planning to install 20 steel stanchions, individual drinking cups and four pens in his stables.

Circus Cows At Million Dollar Plant Help Sick

Miami, Fla.—Barnum's circus cows, freaks when they were introduced in America in 1847, now comprise the greater part of the stock on a million dollar dairy plant near here. They are producing rich milk for babies and are prized as some of the finest cattle in the country.

These are the white-bellied cattle, P. T. Barnum brought here from Holland. They get their name from the odd marking of a broad white belt around the body of an otherwise coal-black cow.

Once a curiosity, they now number $60 of the White Belt Farm of Dr. and Mrs. John Gordon DuPuis, at Lemon City, near here. Some of the cows of this stock, broke the world's record for her yield at 11 years of age for milk and butter production, and the following year surpassed even this with a production of 17,255 pounds of milk and 455 pounds of butterfat.

Dr. DuPuis started his great dairy venture in 1917 with a June Jersey cow. He wanted to supply his sick children patients with pure milk. Now he supplies a special baby's milk for tiny infants and a standard milk for children, equal to the best from other cows.

His $60 white belt cows roam on a

Litzkow Brown Swiss Animals Are Ribbon Winners And Good Producers

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Black Creek—While A. W. Litzkow, route 4, is not one of the largest, he is one of the successful breeders of purebred Brown Swiss Dairy cattle of Outagamie county and a member of the Outagamie County Brown Swiss Breeders' association.

Last fall Mr. Litzkow showed five purebred animals at the Seymour fair, and although he met competition from breeders older in experience, his animals were awarded one grand champion, two blue ribbons, one red ribbon and one white ribbon. This fall, Mr. Litzkow expects to show nine purebreds at the same fair.

Mr. Litzkow's cows are excellent producers and easy feeders. There is always a ready market for his surplus animals at good prices and if a cow goes to the block, she is large enough to command an unusual price. Mr. Litzkow has orders booked for calves now that he cannot fill until next spring. Among his sales this spring, was a cow six months old that was sold on the farm June 23, to Marvin Louck, Peshigo, for $115. Since he began raising Brown Swiss cattle in 1919, Mr. Litzkow has sold 15 head, mostly calves.

In Mr. Litzkow's herd are 14 purebred animals, including a herd sire, eight cows and calves. Of the cows, four fresh milkers and three strippers are producing 200 pounds of milk daily with an average test of 3.9 per cent. At the peak of conditions, these same animals produce 250 pounds of milk daily. In December, January and February last Gwinnie of the Bridges, one of these cows, 9 years old, produced 44 pounds of butterfat each month.

Other high producing cows in Mr. Litzkow's herd are Pride of Maple Ridge, 9 years old. In December, January and February she produced 63.3 pounds of butter fat each month. Mary's Beauty, 4 years old, that produces 41.72 pounds of fat each of the same months.

Mary's Beauty, was awarded second place in the three year old class at the Bridges, was grand champion at Seymour fair last fall, and Gwinnie of the same fair.

As a result of these records and his experience for large level farms, Mr. Litzkow says: "If I should start in the business of dairying and stop a dozen times, I certainly would start and stop each time with Brown Swiss purebreds."

When Mr. Litzkow started farming for himself, he purchased his first purebred Brown Swiss cow, Mary S. Magg, of Fred Brick, Seymour. When this cow was six years old, she produced 57 pounds of milk daily, testing 4.3 per cent. Her first calf, a bull, at six weeks of age brought $150. A daughter of this cow, Mary's Beauty, as a first year old produced 52 pounds of milk daily, testing 4.1 per cent.

In 1920, Mr. Litzkow bought two purebred heifers of E. A. Quick, a Fond du Lac breeder. One of these was Gwinnie of the Bridges and the other Phoebe Jane. Mr. Litzkow lost the latter cow. He sold four heifer calves of the former at high prices and retained the other for his own use. In 1922, Mr. Litzkow purchased two female calves of U. G. Crandell, Bruce. One of these is Mabel Ione and (the other the Duchess of Nichols. Mabel Ione has produced five daughters, including two pair of twins. Mabel Ione has a production record of 45 pounds of milk daily, testing 4 per cent.

In 1924, Mr. Litzkow purchased three more heifer calves of Mr. Crandell. One of these freshened in May and is producing 42 pounds of milk daily.

The present herd sire is Prince of Black Creek, a 2 year old, purchased of Frank Steffel, Tuleida.

CHINCH BUG LOSSES

Wet weather has cut the chinch bug out of damaging corn and small grains. This is primarily a dry weather insect. On the other hand, the cool wet season in most of the United States has been favorable to cutworms.

HERD TESTERS BUSY

More than 10,000 dairy cows in Illinois are tested for milk and butterfat production every month. This is done by cow testers employed by the 31 dairy herd improvement associations in the state.

TEST CORN VARIETIES

Two large corn variety tests are being conducted on Nebraska farms. One includes 45 plots, and the other 89, each plot being different from the one next to it.

The farm has its own electric refrigeration plant, its own sterilizing and bottling plants, laundry, commissary and other modern farm machinery. Even a private laboratory is maintained to keep a constant check on the milk. The average daily bacterial count is four times less than the government's requirement for certified milk.

Dr. DuPuis is president of the Dutch Belled Cattle Association of America. As such he leads also in having 150 pure-bred Dutch belled cows, said to be the largest herd of the kind in the world.

Despite this great enterprise, which demands a great deal of his interest, Dr. DuPuis still follows his profession. Today, however, he visits his patients by modern auto, but he well remembers when he cut across lots on foot through the palmettos of Florida to make his daily rounds.

A. W. LITZKOW, ROUTE 4, BLACK CREEK, BREEDER OF BROWN SWISS CATTLE, AND GWINNIE OF THE BRIDGES, HIS NINE YEAR OLD COW, GRAND CHAMPION AT THE SEYMOUR FAIR LAST FALL. THE PRODUCTION RECORD OF THIS COW IS 61.51 POUNDS OF BUTTERFAT.

WOMEN ECONOMIC GROUPS PREPARE COOKING LESSON

Different Organizations Prepare Meals Under Direction of Expert

BY W. F. WINSEY
Special Farm Writer

Seymour—Mrs. Victor Mueller, Black Creek, route 3, was hostess Tuesday to the Seymour group of women in home economics and the leader of the group, Miss Edna L. Huffman of the extension service and home demonstration work of the department of agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

Sixteen women participated in the demonstration lessons in cooking presented by Miss Huffman, each one prepared some dish or article of food for a lunch at the noon hour. The lunch consisted in part of corn and potato chowder prepared by Mrs. Charles Vussow and Mrs. John Timm; date muffins, prepared by Mrs. Walter Ohm and Mrs. William Wendt; oat meal muffins, Mrs. James Sherman and Mrs. Henry Roepcke; bran muffins, Mrs. Viola Roepcke; Mrs. Joseph Heid Jr. and Mrs. Victor Mueller; escalloped peas and salmon, Miss Edna W. Fourie; creamed vegetables, Mrs. Robert J. Dersbach; chocolate pudding, Mrs. Wesley Sherman; butterscotch pudding, Mrs. Allan Powell and Mrs. George Ohm. The recipes follow:

LIST OF RECIPES

Corn and potato chowder—Three cups of raw potatoes cut in small cubes, two cups canned corn, ten cups of milk, two cups salt pork, one small onion chopped fine, one-half teaspoon celery salt, one-half teaspoon paprika and salt to season; cut the salt pork in small pieces and cook with onion, until light brown; then add the potato and cook about ten minutes; add the corn and milk and cook until the potatoes are tender; and season the chowder.

Escalloped peas and salmon—Use one cup salmon, two cups peas, one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, salt and pepper, and crackers crumbs; make a cream sauce of butter flour and milk; add seasonings and the shredded salmon and peas; used a buttered dish with cracker crumbs over the top.

Creamed vegetables—Use six cold boiled potatoes, two cold boiled carrots, one-half can peas, two slices of onions, two cups milk, two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one-fourth cup grated cheese, one-half cup cracker crumbs and salt and pepper.

Chocolate pudding—Use two cups of milk, two tablespoons cornstarch, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one square chocolate, and a pinch of salt; scald the milk and add the shredded chocolate, raisins and one-half cup nut meats; serve the pudding with cream.

Date muffins—Use one egg, one-fourth cup of sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons fat, two cups flour, one fourth cup chopped dates and one cup milk; mix the fat, sugar, salt and beaten egg together well; mix and add the flour, mixture and milk; beat the mixture well, stir in the dates and bake in muffin tins.

Oat meal muffins—Use the recipe as for date muffins, substituting oatmeal for one-half of the flour and omitting the dates.

Bran muffins—Use recipe for date muffins, substituting bran for one-half of the flour and omitting the dates.

Butterscotch pudding—Use two cups of milk, one-fourth cup tapioca, one-half cup sugar (scant), one tablespoon butter, pinch of salt, and one egg; melt the butter and sugar and add the cold milk; allow the hardened sugar to melt slowly as the milk is heated; add the salt and the tapioca; when the milk reaches boiling point; when the pudding has thickened and is clear, add the beaten egg yolk; when cool add the beaten egg white; served with cream.

In the afternoon, Miss Huffman talked on Factors Necessary to the Growth of Children, and Child Feeding through several stages of development.

On Wednesday, Miss Huffman is to meet the Shiocion home economic group of women in the high school on Thursday, the Horterville Green-ville group at the residence of Mrs. Gens, New London; and on Friday, the Mackville group at the home of Mrs. Steffensen, Appleton. The Seymour program will be repeated at each of these meetings.

LOWER APPLE YIELD REPORTED THIS YEAR

Prospects Said to Be 25 Per Cent Less Favorable Than Last Year

Columbus, O.—"That apple a day may be harder to buy this year than last."

Prospects for the country's apple crop are 25 per cent less favorable now than they were last year at this time. The crop promises less than the average crop of the past ten years, it is reported by C. R. Arnold, rural economics extension specialist at the Ohio State university on the basis of recent nationwide estimates.

Apples at this time last year were reported to promise 75 per cent of a normal crop. This June indications are for 57 per cent of normal, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Average for the past 10 years is 70 per cent of normal.

Only one leading apple state, Michigan, reports a crop likely to equal last year's.

New York and Washington, producing more than a fourth of the nation's apple crop, both report apple crop conditions as less promising than last year, or the 10-year average. Washington, with a June 1 report last year of 82 per cent, this year reports apple crop prospects as 61 per cent of normal. Washington's 10-year average on June 1 is 55 per cent normal.

New York, reporting 55 per cent on June 1 last year, this June reports 72 per cent of normal expected. New York's 10-year average is 73 per cent of normal.

FARM PICNICS URGED TO INCREASE INCOME

Is Means of Educating People to Proper Methods of Doing Business

Madison—The farmers' picnics, like the business men's clubs, should be a means of educating our country generally in the proper methods of conducting their farms.

Solomon Levitan, treasurer of the state of Wisconsin, thus proposes a new plan for lifting the farmer out of the morass of solitude and low profit.

The farmers' picnic is nothing new, but Levitan asserts not enough take advantage of its benefits.

"Farming is one of the greatest industries and businesses in the world, and it is the poorest organized," says Levitan.

"The real nub of the farmer's troubles is his difficulty in selling. 'Bankers hold group meetings to talk over their problems. I want farmers to do the same. 'That is why I feel that farmers' picnics are one of the greatest educational mediums in the country. If, during the next two or three years, all the farmers of each state would meet in this way and discuss and seek information on the one subject of selling their produce, I think the earnings on the farm would be increased fifty per cent."

HUGE NEW INDUSTRY DEVELOPING FROM DEAD CORNSTALKS

Dead Refuse Now Is Being Turned into Many Useful Products in U. S.

Iowa City, Ia.—No longer shall the cows and pigs be turned loose on fields of dead cornstalks. No longer shall tons of this material be turned under the new furrows in the spring to furnish a meager fertilizer for the land.

The fate of cornstalks lies in the hands of a New York engineering company organized to convert waste cornstalks into supplies of cellulose pulp for the manufacture of dozens of everyday products. Tests have shown that paper, rayon silk, motion picture film, explosives, lacquers, artificial leather and many other necessities which are based on a cellulose composition can be derived from cornstalks.

Iowa would be the logical place for the firm to establish its factories, according to the statement of O. R. Sweeney, head of the chemical engineering department of the University of Iowa at Ames, Ia. This state produces a sixth of the United States yield of 1,500,000,000 tons of cornstalks and 20,000,000 tons of cobs.

The most important chemical industries of the state are the utilization of corn and gypsum. When the farmer sells a bushel of corn he receives about 35 cents. But if the same amount were converted into products such as starch, it is worth $2.50. When it is converted into ethyl alcohol it is worth $4.60.

Mr. Sweeney predicts, "Perhaps the entire future of the corn belt region of Iowa is closely associated with the chemical industries. Recent work has shown that the corn stalks and corn cobs are a raw material of great possibilities."

The new process which is proposed for use in this new chemical industry was discovered by Dr. Dela Dorner, a Hungarian chemist. Its advantage lies in the fact that the pitch and knuckle of the cornstalks could not be removed by any process heretofore invented without making the cost prohibitive.

According to C. B. Roberts, specialist in the commercial development department of industrial processes, "the corn belt destroys annually more than enough cornstalks to supply the pulp requirements of the country."

The chemist has found that the yield of acetic acid, is larger and the yield of methanol lower than that of wood. Charcoal produced from cornstalks is of a fine grade also.

BUYS ANIMALS FOR CALF CLUB WORK IN DOOR-CO

Sturgeon Bay—Last week, B. F. Rusy, Door-co agent, went to Waukesha and purchased three purebred Guernsey calves of the M. A. Seybold farm, for calf club work. One of these calves goes to George De Kaiser, Brussels and two to J. A. Hart, Ellison Bay. Mr. Rusy also is getting two Holstein heifer calves for Emil Spaid, Forestville, from Schwartz brothers, Waukesha. These were sired by the grand champion of the national dairy show last year. A male calf from the experiment station of Door-co has been purchased by Mr. Spaid, for use in his herd.

WOMAN PROFITS ON BUTTERFLY TRADE

Hundreds of Specimens Are Hatched Every Year at Eastern Iowa Home

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Hatching hundreds of butterflies and moths in her screened porch every year, Mrs. J. W. Casterline, a self-made naturalist living in Tipton, eastern Iowa, has developed one of the queerest "live-stock" businesses known.

Although she promotes this strange business chiefly for enjoyment, she gets considerable income from it. Butterflies of almost every species found on the north central plains are included in Mrs. Casterline's varied collection and are systematically raised.

Mrs. Casterline got her start in the butterfly game when her doctor told her she must get outdoors much of the time. Reaching through the natural timberlands near her home she found a cluster of butterfly eggs on the bark of a tree. Taking them home she hatched them out and went back after more. Now she has scores of varieties.

The eggs are brought home on tree twigs and put in the screened porch. When they hatch they produce tiny worms which feed ravenously on the tree leaves. Indeed, additional feed must often be supplied.

When they have become full grown worms they spin cocoons and remain in this state until the following spring, when butterflies emerge. The only time during the year the insects are a few days while in the worm stage.

Mrs. Casterline kills the butterflies by putting them in a jar of cyanide gas. They are then given a formaldehyde bath and are ready for mounting in ornamental trays and dresser decorations.

SHORT COURSE GRADS TO HOLD SUMMER REUNION

Sturgeon Bay—When inspecting the experiment farm at the branch station near here on Farmers' Field day, July 14, graduates of the University of Wisconsin agricultural short course will hold their summer reunion.

Short course farmers of Door, Kewaunee, Brown and Manitowoc counties are planning to attend the event. In these four counties there are about 150 graduates from the state farm course.

POTATOES TWO WEEKS LATE AROUND DALE

Date—Owing to the cold, wet weather that prevailed this spring, field potatoes in growth are about two weeks late. As some of the seed rotted, and some sprouts did not break through the baked surface, the stands in some fields are uneven and the hills show a great diversity in growth. Except for being behind time, the great majority of the potato fields are very promising. The usual number of acres of early and late varieties have been planted in this vicinity this spring and the only change from practices of former years made by growers is the use of commercial fertilizer on their fields.

Walnuts and Almonds now may be imported without permit, since the Department of Agriculture finds shipments are free from injurious insects.

MAKE MOTHER'S SUMMER PLEASANT

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE captain of the family soul, and incidentally of their bodily comfort during July and August is, as you may know, a person known as Mother. It takes more clothes for the family in summer—the girls need more fresh stockings, undies, and dresses, the boys need more shirts, BVDs, and socks. Father, too, needs more of everything, for in summer he showers twice a day, and twice a day he steps into fresh linen.

And the towels and sheets and sundry? Beds must be changed oftener. Then everybody likes to sit down to a table with spick and span linen. It seems so much cooler when its surface presents that slick satiny finish that comes of much ironing while the linen is very damp.

There are iced drinks to be made, salads to be kept cool in the ice-box until the very minute of eating, cool desserts to be made, and plenty lunches. The very man in the sand-wich usually means a day in a very hot kitchen, hence, for mother. Those crisp delicious little cakes mean a hot fire, too, and the icing a brisk beating.

In plain words summer days mean little to mother but work, and more work. More sewing, more ironing, more cooking, more everything. Don't say "oh" to me. I've seen it a thousand, nay, thousands of times and I know. Mother just can't make things easier for herself as you may suggest. It is up to the family to do that.

Every girl, every boy, and father, too, should see to it that Mother's summer is made more bearable by every little bit of help they can give her. Be it hot! "Mother's Day" is all very fine. Now let's make it Mother's summer.

because, she said, no matter what delicious nice hot meals she cooked "him," he insisted on bringing home from his delicatessen store his own meals of pickled pigs' feet, potato salad, pickled herring, and chili sauce, summer sausage and ginger ale. She won.

What a funny world! Think of the wives who would think such a husband the rarest find on earth! No dinner to cook. Goody, goody—moviettes, matinee, shopping, lots of time!

HER FOOTPRINTS
Unimportant, insignificant woman! Her footprints determine the real estate values of great cities! A speaker before a national convention of builders told them that the highest priced property in any city is in the block where women shoppers congregate. "The beaten path between three great stores is the 'charmed circle' from a real estate viewpoint," he said.

The business world is more and more granting woman her significance. They recognize us as buyers, if not as sellers.

TOO MUCH FUDGE
The famous "pretty girl" artist, Coles Phillips, who recently died, left his palette for a pigeon farm shortly before his death. He is said to have explained his move by saying that he was so surfeited by pretty girls that he never again wanted to see one. "It is like dining exclusively on chocolate eclairs until one learns for corned beef and cabbage," he said, or have stopped dead in the middle of the street to gaze in admiration at some passer-by because she was so ugly." Which makes some of us feel better after all!

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

O H, gee! Oh, my! Oh, goodness me!" cried Clowny, scared as he could be. "Won't someone kindly save me from this horse. He's going mad. The merry-go-round is his real home. What business has he got to roam? Of all the thrills this is the worst that I have ever had."

"Oh, don't be frightened," Copy cried. "That horse will show you how to ride. Just hang on tightly to his neck and you'll be safe and sound. The horse I'm on is frisky, too. The only thing that we can do is keep from being thrown off, else we'll land upon the ground."

The other Tinkies kept real still. They didn't want to take a spill, and feared that if they shouted, they'd be thrown up in the air. 'Twas best to let the horses run, and try to make it seem like fun. Of course they might jump to the ground, but felt they didn't dare.

And, in the meantime, Princess Fun, just laughed and laughed at what she'd done. For she had waved her magic wand, and turned the horses loose. She watched them for a while, then thought it best the animals were caught. She then brought forth a magic rope and put the thing to use.

It floated out upon the air and seemed to pick its way with care. "Right aft." all the horses went the funny looking rope. "The Tinkies saw it come their way, and they all shouted loud. 'Hurrah!' They knew that rescue thus was near, which filled them all with hope.

And, as the rope's good work was done, it grasped the horses one by one. It circled 'round about their necks and made them stop real short. At last, we're saved," the Tinkies cried. Then ran up to the Princess' side. Although they'd all been scared, they quite agreed they'd had some sport.

(The Tinkies rode on a tiny train in the next story.)

LUNCHEON—Fish and celery salad, rye bread and butter sandwiches, strawberry surprise, sponge cake, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled lamb chops new potatoes in parsley butter, creamed carrots, zinger ale salad, cheese wafers, floating island, milk, coffee.

The fish and celery salad is planned to use up any of the halibut that may have been left from the preceding dinner. The secret of a successful fish salad lies in using a delicious tart dressing for marinating the fish. Care in mixing the salad to prevent crushing the fish flakes is also essential.

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE
One cup whipping cream, 1 cup marshmallows, 1-2 cup powdered sugar, 3 cups strawberries, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.

Cut marshmallows in small pieces and combine with strawberries cut in quarters. Let stand on ice for one hour. Whip cream until firm, beat in sugar and vanilla and fold in strawberry mixture. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses.

TURKISH LADS PREFER LADIES WHO ARE PLUMP

BY ALLENE SUMNER
D OES it seem utterly unreasonable for a wife who supports her husband by working for pay outside the home to expect him to at least look after children while she is out toiling for their daily bread? A Boston lady didn't think so. She told the judges before whom she appeared on complaint of a non-support charge against her husband that she realized it was hard for a man to get a job, and was perfectly willing to keep on with her own job and also do the housework, but did think he might look after the children as long as he was not working.

MORE THEY MAY
The patience of woman! Also, the folly of woman! For it is women who have so long permitted males to get away with murder that they have made them what they are today! One of the soundest arguments which I know against married women working outside the home, and also assuming the full burden of home responsibilities, is that the mass of males will continue to expect it indefinitely and consider themselves awfully abused under the old regime which had a woman toil in the home only!

FOR PLUMP MAIDS
Just a little box for the plump maid. Even today they prefer "fun" for an Turkey, and the girlhood maidens are disposed of only at matrimonial rummage sales in that land. This, according to a Mrs. Alice Howard Macomber, who recently returned from Turkey where she was engaged to study that country and lecture upon it.

DELICATE HUSBAND
The delicate woman has been lamented very often. Now we have the delicate man. A Chicago lady begged a judge for a divorce

SAINT AND SINNER

By Anne Austin

Mrs. Lundy was to begin work the next morning. The rest of that day Faith spent lazily in the kitchen, fixing the most delectable dinner she was capable of cooking, for she had a curious, jealous desire for Bob to have one perfect dinner of her own creation with which, ever afterwards, to compare his paid servant's.

"If we could get a cook with half your talent she'd be worth double what I'll ever be able to pay her," Bob said, when her irreproachable shortcake was served.

After dinner, the entire family gravitated, as a matter of course, to the living room. Carry immediately turned on the radio, tuning in on a hotel orchestra and smiling Bob, with outstretched arms, to dance with her.

"Tired," he refused, incoherently, with a wistful glance toward his wife. Jim Lane, who had been hunched over his newspaper under the reading lamp, rose and remarked heavily, apologetically, "Broken we ain't giving you two young people much time to yourselves, Faith. You come along to my room, Joy, and I'll help you with your arithmetic."

"Don't go, Dad!" Faith cried hastily. "Really—"

But Jim Lane tramped on out, followed by a sulky, half-hearted Joy. "Glad at this divorcing hour," Carry was scornful. "I'm come to make Bob try a new step with me when he's tested up a bit. Come on, old settled married men!" she whined upon Bob, game face toward him. "Don't let Faith turn you into her idea of a model husband and smiling Bob, with a grinning young architect's ambition to work on library plans at night," he asked.

"That's the comparative upon which my model is based!" Faith laid out on them. "Get your faces and come along with me. Now, as it is good a time as any for debating the snail pace to be in motion of sex and a strange, young architect as a very thing, I want a new fashion magazine on the library table, Carry."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS--

A bathing girl doesn't care a rap,azine on the library table, Carry."

"Is there a department called 'What the prospective mother will wear?' Cherry asked bitterly.

"Come on, darling!" Bob whispered, his hand holding fast to Faith's. When they closed the door of the sun parlor upon themselves, Bob took his wife into his arms and kissed her quietly, his face a little stern.

"You're not going back in there and baby Cherry," he told her firmly but gently. "As your husband, I have some rights and I'm going to exercise them. Right now I feel like saying, 'Cherry and the rest of the family be damned! I want my wife!'"

Faith kissed him then, but she knew that her whole heart was not in it. Part of it—and such a big part—was suffering with lonely, baffled, selfish little Cherry.

WESTERN WHEAT FIELDS
CALL FOR HARVEST HANDS

Madison—(P)—The call of the wheat fields has gone out. Although the railroads have abandoned their usual cut fare system, which acted as an incentive to the harvesters, the call is being answered in Wisconsin, mainly by the younger men.

Every section of the state from Milwaukee to Superior has sent its "quota." More than a hundred men departed from the cities of Duluth and Superior over the fourth of July weekend.

Government free employment bureaus have announced that fewer candidates for the wheat fields will be sent out from their offices because of the elimination of the cut rate railroad fares. Many inquiries have been made to these offices, however. A large number of these who have already answered the call of the harvest are college youths either in anticipation of the swelling of funds for school days starting next September or the desire to be "in trim" for the strenuous fall athletic programs.

SUPERINTENDENT OF MENOMINEES SENT TO WEST RESERVATION

Schneider Pays Tribute to William Donner as Head of Indian Settlement

William Donner, superintendent of the Menominee Indian reservation, has been transferred to a western reservation which has not been announced, according to George J. Schneider, member of congress from the Ninth Wisconsin district, who visited the reservation Wednesday. Mr. Donner will remain at the reservation for a few weeks to acquaint his successors with the work.

The superintendent was assigned to the position two years ago particularly because he is a civil engineer as well as being familiar with Indian affairs, Mr. Schneider said. For years he has acted as superintendent of reservations and has held other positions of this kind.

Two men will be brought to the Menominee reservation to fill Mr. Donner's place. W. R. Boyer, will be superintendent and will take charge this week. He comes from Devils Lake, N. D., where he had charge of the Devil and Sioux Indian tribes' affairs as superintendent. He will live at Keshena.

George C. Hammer will be saw mill manager. He will have charge of the logging operations, the sales department and of the forestation and fire protection of forests over the entire reservation. Some years ago he served as clerk and sales manager in the saw mill at Neopit.

Much new construction work was done at the Menominee reservation during Mr. Donner's regime. A fire destroyed much of the property and had to be rebuilt. Under his direction, a new sawmill and planing mill was built at Neopit, the hydro-electric plant was rebuilt, a new power plant was constructed at Keshena Falls, to provide power and light to the schools, streets, business places and homes at Keshena.

A new athletic gymnasium is being completed in connection with the agency school. During Mr. Donner's administration, an impetus was given to forestation. More than 200,000 white pine trees were planted; the forest fire patrol system was rebuilt; and a telephone system reaching every point in the reservation was established.

"The Menominee Indians found in Mr. Donner, a real friend and co-worker," Mr. Schneider declared. "No former superintendents of the reservation can claim the record of accomplishment equal to that left by Mr. Donner. Unlike several previous superintendents, he always had at heart the interests and welfare of the Indians, and sought to bring about those things which would be for their best interests. I personally have enjoyed most friendly relations and his co-operation. Although I did not always agree to his policies with regard to the reservation, I found him always ready to listen to criticism and ready to try to comply with constructive suggestions of friends of the Indians. I sincerely hope we shall find his successor fully as competent."

ELKS SEND BAND TO NATIONAL CONTEST

Appleton Organization Will Represent Wisconsin at Cincinnati

Thirty-five members of the Elk club band and the director Edward P. Stumm will leave Tuesday afternoon for Cincinnati, O., to enter the Elk National Bank contest in connection with the national convention of the lodge July 11 to 14. The contest will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

This band won second place at the national contest in Chicago last year. First place went to the Minneapolis organization. It received one point more than the local band. Appleton's band will represent the state of Wisconsin at the contest this year. When the matter of sending bands to the convention was discussed, many lodges felt it was too expensive to finance their own organizations. The state officers chose the Appleton band to represent the state because of the excellent showing made last year. The local organization has played at initiations of the Elk lodge since its organization.

Members of the lodge who wish to go with the band in the special coach may communicate with James Baillet. Among those planning to go are Mr. Baillet and George Hogreiver.

CUBS READY TO TAKE ON MENASHA TEAM

Manager Macginnis Finds Menashans Willing to Play on Amateur Basis

Kaukauna—The Kaukauna Y. M. C. A. Cub's baseball team were surprised Wednesday to find that another supposedly amateur team in the Fox river valley desired to meet them on an strictly amateur basis. Following an article appearing in the Wednesday Post-Crescent questioning whether the local team was despoiling the Menasha Rounders Manager P. R. Maginnis immediately got in touch with Menasha management and a game is assured.

It is true that the Menasha Rounders asked for a game earlier in the year. The Cub's manager said, but they asked what terms the local team could give them. Mr. Maginnis felt that the Cub's was a strictly amateur team and that terms weren't necessary if the Menasha Rounders considered themselves in the same class. As soon as he discovered that the Woodenware team was ready to play the local squad with the visiting team paying his own expenses he was ready to schedule the game. Wednesday evening he phoned Menasha and explained that he would be glad to play either at Menasha or Kaukauna with the visitors paying their expenses. This seemed to be satisfactory to the Woodenware outfit and the game will be played this month. The two managers promised to select a date for the game by the end of the week.

The Cub's journey to Chilton Sunday. Manager Maginnis said.

Kaukauna—Several hundred local Chicago and Northwestern railroad employees will attend the Rothchild picnic at Rothchild, near Wausau, on Sunday, July 24, according to O. A. The company will pay the entire expense of the special train. Kaukauna will be represented by a 25-piece band composed entirely of musicians from the railroad's ranks in the city. This will be the largest band at the picnic.

Mr. Fiedler has been chosen local chairman of a committee to make preparations for the picnic. TENNIS CLUB STARTS
SINGLES SCHEDULE

Electric City Net Stars Tackle Appleton Team Next Saturday

Kaukauna—A singles schedule for members of the Kaukauna Tennis club will be started Monday afternoon, July 11, at the tennis courts on the municipal playgrounds. A recent canvass of members of the organization showed them opposed to the doubles schedule. Many of the members claim their doubles partners never appear for the matches and then they must play against the other team alone or forfeit the match. About twenty members are expected to take part in the singles schedule and two matches will be played each evening for five days a week. Trophies will be awarded the three place winners at the conclusion of the series which is expected to be in September.

The courts have been repaired and are now in the best of condition. Tapes have been laid and the wires have been built higher with the top strip slanting over the courts to catch high balls headed for the canal or river on either side of the courts.

A team of four members from the Kaukauna Tennis club will meet the best Appleton has to offer in tennis in a match at the Appleton Y. M. C. A. courts starting at 1:30 Saturday afternoon. Two doubles matches and four singles matches will be played. One point will be credited to the club winning a match and the club with the largest number of points at the conclusion of the six matches will be declared the winner. Three members of the local team have already been selected and the fourth will be announced later.

The present team consists of Alphonse Berens, 1925 city singles champion; William Ashe Jr. and G. Patton. Ashe is a Lake Forest Academy product and has not lost a match on the local courts this year.

This will be one of the many inter-club matches to be scheduled by the local club this summer. Negotiations are being made at present for a match with Green Bay.

LEGION GETS PERMIT
TO BUILD RIVER WALL

Kaukauna—Members of the Kaukauna Post of the American Legion are continuing their work on the river wall between the city garage and the Wisconsin-ave bridge. This work was interrupted for a day when the government district engineer at Appleton asked the organization to get official government permission before continuing operations. This was done and the district engineer immediately granted permission for the project. While permission was being secured the men busied themselves hauling stone for the wall from the old Badger mill which recently was wrecked so that they lost practically no time by the order.

CHAPERON BACK TO HELP
GIRLS FIND HUSBANDS

London—The chaperon, so wholeheartedly abolished in the years during and after the war, has come back to fashionable London and is more in evidence at dances and other public functions than at any time since Victorian days.

One reason for this, according to societly gossip, is that young unchaperoned girls, while having a generally good time, have not made good marriages or have remained single, while the girls more carefully brought up and chaperoned have secured the best plums in the marriage basket.

It is seldom now that society girls go to a ball or dinner without their mothers or some woman relative while many society games with moderate incomes are in great demand as paid chaperons.

APPLETON TO PLAY AT MENASHA SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Papermakers Scheduled In Two Weekend Games; Meet Bays Here Sunday

League Moguls Meet Wednesday Evening; Baetz Loans Brockhaus to Neenah

How They Stand

Baseball hostilities in the Fox River Valley league will be resumed Saturday afternoon when Appleton and Menasha play a postponed game at the Menasha park. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30.

The Appleton club has been putting in several nights of hard practice and after their victory over Kaukauna Sunday aim to keep right up among the leaders. Menasha played two games over the holidays and got an even break for their labors. The Pails are also to be considered in the race for the bunting for they can be expected to knock off any of the teams though they may not be considered as possible winners of the flag.

Monday afternoon they battled on even terms with the high riding Bays and lost out only when Janowski weakened near the end of the fracas. Powell, who took his place had pitched the day before so that his efforts against the Green Sox are not to be counted.

Appleton will present the same lineup that performed last week with one exception. Al Goshia who wrenched his knee and ankle at Kimberly several weeks ago is expected to be back in uniform and in that event will again patrol the left field garden. Hillman who has been filling Goshia's shoes is a sweet fielder but has not quite mastered the art of "hitting 'em where they ain't."

Who will do the pitching for the Papermakers has not been decided. Joe Mayefski has tossed 'em up in several games in the past two seasons and may be called upon to work or the burden may fall to Sternagle. With the Bays as the opposition Sunday it seems to us the big right hander should be saved and sent against the up state aggregation where his experience and confidence will be needed.

A meeting of the managers of the several league teams was held Wednesday evening at the Conway hotel. Routine business made up the major part of the work. All the teams were represented except Kaukauna. Manager Baetz of the Appleton squad has consented to let Brockhaus catch for Neenah until Handler is able to resume the position behind the long. Handler injured his arm several weeks ago and has not been able to do much since. A good rest will probably do him good. Neenah is also looking for a pitcher to take Nixon's place for several games. Nixon split a finger in the Neenah-Menasha game last week and is on the shelf indefinitely.

ALL MICHIGAN HELPING FITZ PUT OVER FIGHT

Detroit, Mich.—Boxing promoters throughout Michigan will join hands with Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons in making the Sammy Mendell-Phil McGraw lightweight championship battle, scheduled for the University of Detroit stadium on July 15, a huge success as a sporting event. It is understood that no date will be asked for bouts throughout the state that will in any way conflict with the championship affair.

When this condition was called to the attention of the boxing commission, there was a general voice of approval by the members and Chairman Tom Bigger addressed a letter to the different clubs throughout the state in which he said:

"We are fortunate in having in our midst a man of such sterling character as Floyd Fitzsimmons promoting championship contests in Michigan; a man who is a native of our state and who is deeply interested in the elevation of athletic contests of this kind."

GEORGE'S WISH WON'T COME TRUE THIS YEAR

George Moriarty wants to win an American League pennant and thereby win the right to match the managerial wits with the pilot of the victorious National League team.

Moriarty has two reasons for cherishing such an ambition. First, because the winning of a big league manager as a success. Second, because it will give him a unique distinction that I don't believe anyone else has ever enjoyed.

Managing a ball club through a world series would give Moriarty triple honors as he has played and umpired in baseball's classic.

Back in 1909, as a member of the Detroit Tigers, he played third base against Pittsburgh and did a mighty good job of it. He has officiated in two world series as one of the umpires. In 1925 between the two New York clubs, also in 1925 when Washington and Pittsburgh met.

Piloting an American League team to a pennant and then a world championship would give Moriarty about every thrill that comes in baseball—manager, player and umpire in a world series.

Success of Michigan's first world's championship show.

"We believe it to be for the mutual interest of all our clubs to place Michigan foremost in the ranks of the National association for promoting clean athletic contests of this kind."

Lazzeri Is Classed As Versatile Ball Player

BY BILLY EVANS

The most versatile ball player in the major leagues. That is a new honor to which I nominate Tony Lazzeri of the New York Americans.

Within one week I have seen Lazzeri shift from second to third, then short, and play all three positions with remarkable brilliancy.

Tony, by the way, has one ambition when I am inclined to think Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees will gladly before the close of the season he wants to play every position on the diamond in the same game.

Lazzeri has no doubts as to one position only and it isn't that of pitcher, as many have probably already surmised. It is the other end of the bat—the catcher.

Not since his first days as Tony donned a mask but he feels capable of turning the trick, since an inning will suffice. In recent years he has played every position in the infield and also taken a whirl at the outfield.

When Lazzeri came to the Yankees it was as a shortstop. At the same time the club had acquired another rookie for the same position in the person of Mark Koenig. He had reported the previous fall and took a month's start on Lazzeri as a backup and the job of shortstop.

In spring training Manager Huggins decided that shortstop was the only place in the infield for which he had Koenig as a backup and Lazzeri gave promise of being able to make himself over into a catcher, another position after that of the infield.

The duties of the catcher are all devolved to Tony and he did a knock so good for a time that he was given the work with a grain of determination that made Manager Huggins feel positive he would make good.

Within two months after the opening of the 1926 campaign Lazzeri had made good beyond a doubt. As each week passed his play improved and no one other person in the New York lineup, not excepting Babe Ruth or Herb Pennock, in 1925 when Washington and Pittsburgh met.

Piloting an American League team to a pennant and then a world championship would give Moriarty about every thrill that comes in baseball—manager, player and umpire in a world series.

"Push-'Em-Up Tony" is the colloquial name at the Yankee stadium with Lazzeri up. It is the call of fandom for Tony to hit one here, far and handsome. He ties with Ruth as a favorite in New York.

Recently when Joe Ducean was injured and his understudy, Mike Gasch, was also out of the running, Lazzeri went to third and played the bag in typical Ducean style.

Hardly had Ducean returned to the team when Mark Koenig suffered a leg injury and Lazzeri moved right over to short and performed brilliantly.

The possession of a great arm, Tony has always had a knack to pitch. So far he has worked out at every spot except the battery job he has gotten millions and wants to take a whirl at every position on the ball field before the close of the season.

If the right spot develops before the close of the season I am almost sure Lazzeri will give up his wish to be a catcher and devote his work to the pitching of the ball.

Don't forget the Lazzeri aside from all this to take care of the fielding and the error, is a dangerous batter and a fine baserunner.

Without a doubt, he is baseball's most versatile performer.

DUNDEE AND PINKIE MITCHELL TO FIGHT IN MILWAUKEE AUG. 11

Andrews Thinks He Has Two Battlers Signed; Don't Know Where to Hold Fight

Milwaukee—Thomas Andrews, who made a flying trip to Baltimore, is coming home with the signed articles of Joe Dundee, world's welterweight champion, for a ten round engagement with Pink Mitchell in Milwaukee on August 11 for the Eagles club. Andrews was forced to promise $30,000 in good old Coolidge currency before Baltimore Joe accepted the nomination.

Mitchell has not yet signed articles for the bout but the offer made to Manager Billy was acceptable to the boys and they will sign whenever the Eagles want them to. No announcement has been made concerning Mitchell's terms other than that he will gamble on a record gate for his share.

Thomas stole the bout from under the noses of Tex Rickard and his serious rival, J. Humbert Fugazy, a Baltimore correspondent tells us. So there is no question that Dundee demanded more than postage stamps for his activities with slim Pinkie. Joe is boxing Billy Drake at Cincinnati on July 13 on a $10,000 guarantee and a percentage privilege. Drake worked around here last winter and was far from impressive. If he gets $10,000 for fighting him you can imagine what he wants to fight Mitchell who held him fairly even in Philadelphia some time ago.

Of course the no decision angle made it easier to persuade Dundee to come west. Mitchell's only route to the championship will be a knockout. Pinkie doesn't stop many fighters and Dundee knows it.

With the match slated down the Eagles are like the boy who grabbed a wildcat and couldn't let go. The Eagles have their fight, but where to hold it is the problem. The project is too large to handle as an indoor event, granting that the Eagles can in a pinch jam 10,000 into their hall. With the attendance limited by four solid walls, it would require an almost prohibited price scale to swing the match.

Athletic park is closed to boxing and thus your one good outdoor arena is unavailable. State Fair park is not good for the cultivation of cauliflower, as the gate crashers find it a paradise when the state militia is not patrolling the grounds. There has been no word from Billy Mitchell concerning the arena promised last week. And that's that.

DEMPSEY LAYS OFF; FEARS GOING STALE

Ex-champ Plays Golf in Tournament and Will Start Swimming Meet Tuesday

Saratoga Lake, N. Y.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey has rounded into shape "over-night," his handlers believe, and is facing the danger of going stale before the match with Jack Sharkey, July 21.

As a preventive measure Jack passed up the usual boxing drill Tuesday to take part in a camp golf tournament for the Saratoga cup.

With the question of golfing supremacy settled, Jack will return to the training ground tomorrow with but one more break scheduled in the routine. On July 12, the former titleholder will slip away to Lake George, 30 miles from here to start the 24 mile swimming marathon. The ferocity of Dempsey's assault in the past two days coupled with improvement shown in his new flatfooted style of attack, led Flynn to call the halt for a day. Jack weighed about 129 pounds Wednesday only five more than he expects to scale against the Boston slugger.

Although boxing only for speed under the instructions of Flynn, who referees all his bouts and coaches each move, Dempsey in two days has knocked out two partners and has held up three others when they appeared about to drop.

Flynn wants to save that viciousness for the night of the Sharkey melee.

The Kaukauna Juniors lost both games of a double header at Wrightstown Sunday afternoon 12 to 3 and 14 to 3. Next Sunday the Electric City youths will play Oak Grove in another double header. The Oak Grove diamond is two miles east and one mile south of Freedom at what is known as Sunny Corners.

Little Chute plays at Wrightstown and is out to avenge their defeat in the hands of the Terror in the last meeting of the teams.

SIXTH WARD SOFTBALLERS CONTINUE WINNING STREAK

Only one game was played in the softball league sponsored by the play grounds and that went to the stepping Sixth warders 4 and 1. The Fifth ward aggregation furnished the opposition. The game scheduled between the Third and Fourth ward teams was postponed until later.

Other games played Wednesday gave the Sixth ward intermediates an 8 to 2 victory over the Fourth ward and the Juniors beat the Fourth ward Juniors 2 and 4.

Here's one of the latest photographs of Miss Betty Nuthall, 16-year-old English tennis phenom, and her victim in the Wimbledon tournament, Mrs. Molla Mallory. The defeat of the American star by the English girl was one of the surprises and big features of the recent tennis meet. The British star is shown at the right with Mrs. Mallory at the left.

CUBS BATTLE PIRATES IN FOUR GAME SERIES TO DECIDE LEADERSHIP

If McCarthy Can Win Thursday His Team Will Be on the Top of Heap

The National league leadership is at stake in a series between Chicago and Pittsburgh starting at Pittsburgh Thursday. The Cubs have won seven straight. They established a season record of twelve consecutive victories, were stopped by Philadelphia and then fattered badly in a series at St. Louis. Their present spurt includes series victories over the Cardinals and Reds. By winning Thursday they can top Pittsburgh by one point.

Crippled by injuries, Donie Bush's Pirates have been able nevertheless to keep a step ahead of the Chicago challenger.

After the Cubs had started the skids under St. Louis the Pirates added to O'Farrell's woes with a clean sweep in three games at Pittsburgh.

Wednesday's activity in the National league was marked by the Phillies rise to sixth place. They took a double header from the Boston Braves 6 to 4 and 5 to 3.

Brooklyn had Dazzy Vance primed for the Giants at the Polo Grounds but rain prevented hostilities. The game will be played as part of a double header Saturday.

Philadelphia showed signs of getting back into the American league race, if there is such a thing, by trimming the Boston Red Sox in both ends of a double header 5 to 1 and 7 to 6.

Detroit and St. Louis engaged in a battle with the Tigers getting a 9 to 8 verdict, after an eighth inning rally that produced three runs.

In the American association race, Milwaukee beat the lowly Senators behind the pitching of Bubba Jonnard, 15 and 6. The former Giant allowed no resemblance of a hit in the first four innings and when his mates put him away up in front he eased up a bit and let Columbus fatten his thin batting average.

Timely hitting gave the Saints two victories over the Indians, 9 and 6 and 10 and 5. The Louisville Kernels dug themselves deeper in the cellar when they lost two games to the Millers by counts of 9 and 2, and 6 and 5. The other contest of the day went to Kansas City when they beat Casey Stengel's Mudhens 10 and 3 to hang onto a second place tie with the Milwaukee Brewers.

TWO PROMOTERS WANT HELEN TO BECOME PRO

London—Charles B. Cochran, English promoter, said Wednesday he would be delighted to have Helen Willis appear in a series of professional tennis matches for $10,000 under his management.

Mr. Cochran made that statement in reply to reports from New York that a British syndicate was offering Miss Mills $10,000 to turn professional. Cochran has been presenting Suzanne Lenglen in a series of professional matches here this week.

Mr. Cochran denied, however, that he had approached Miss Willis or had made an offer to her to turn professional. He also denied that he was a member of the reported syndicate or that he knew anything of it.

SCHULTE IN HOSPITAL WITH FRACTURED SKULL

St. Louis, Mo.—(AP)—Fred Schulte, $100,000 centerfielder obtained by the St. Louis Browns from Milwaukee, suffered a possible skull fracture when he ran into the concrete bleachers on wall while chasing a fly in the eighth inning of Wednesday's game with Detroit. He was taken to a hospital.

SPRING PREDICTIONS ABOUT M'MANUS AND WHITEHILL ALL WRONG

Neither Star Has Shown the Class Expected of Him This Season

You never can tell in baseball, for the athletes do not always run true to form.

In the spring, all of the experts in sizing up the Detroit ball club stressed the importance of the addition of Marty McManus at second. Likewise, they said many kind things about Earl Whitehill, Tiger southpaw.

When I looked the Detroit club over at San Antonio in early April I realized why so many of the traveling writers and columnists over McManus. The former second sacker of the St. Louis Browns looked in great shape and appeared all set for a big season.

Whitehill, a great southpaw, also seemed further advanced than the rest of the staff and expressed the belief that he would win 20 games for Detroit.

Manager Moriarty, in figuring his chances, made it apparent that he was placing much dependence in both Whitehill and McManus.

With the season half over, spring predictions have failed to work out. So far it has been a poor year for the two above mentioned stars.

Disagreements occur on every ball club, so it was nothing out of the ordinary when Manager Moriarty took issue with Second Baseman McManus and removed him from the lineup.

As a matter of fact, McManus is a sort of protégé of Moriarty. When "Morrie" was made manager of the Detroit club one of the first things he did was make a trade for him. Knowing McManus' great ability plus the close friendship that existed between the two, he hoped it that Marty would play the greatest game of his career for him.

Things failed to pan out as Manager Moriarty had hoped relative to McManus, but nevertheless some good came of the rumpus between pilot and player.

Having relegated McManus to the bench, the second base job fell to Charley Gehringer. It gave him the big opportunity and he has made the most of it. No one in either major league is going any better at the position.

Gehringer is destined to become one of the game's greatest second basemen. He can field, hit, run and throw. All he needs is a few years' experience to be an outstanding star.

The breaks must favor a pitcher if he is to be a consistent winner. They have been going just the other way for Earl Whitehill this year.

In several games he has been cheated out of a victory by a big inning rally on the part of the opposition late in the game, when it seemed as if he was in. In other, lack of a timely hit has been disastrous.

There are some who believe that the weakening of Whitehill in a number of games has been caused by too much relief work. Earl has been used in the rescue role quite often this year with only fair success.

Some pitchers insist that relief work for a couple of innings at high pressure takes more out of them than a whole game. Whitehill is listed as such a pitcher. Believe it or not.

In the recent winning streak staged by the Tigers, the southpaw ace was the least effective pitcher on the staff. If he strikes his winning stride it will mean much to the chances of the Detroit club to finish high in the first division.

Thus, with the season half over, the two players figured to keep Detroit in the running, have failed to run true to form and the club has suffered.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES
Thursday—Interlakes vs Co. D.
Friday—Post-Crescent vs Civic club.

Upsets continue to be the vogue in the softball league and the lowly Brandts copied a victory from the legion Wednesday evening in Jones park, 4 and 1. This said that it was a very good ball game until the ninth inning when several things went bad and the Brandts shoved three runs across the plate to win.

Previous to the fatal ninth the two teams had played nip and tuck ball with the score at one all. But as has been said everything went wrong for the legion and nearly everything for the Brandts. For the Reds scored three runs on poor baseball on the part of the legion, and then started to play m-r ball themselves and let the legionaires get into a position to score too. The legionnaires but not long-lived however, for the rally was squelched and the legion had lost another game.

Thursday evening the Interlakes will go forth to do battle against Co. D, and if the soldiers can get enough players down there it's going to be a merry battle. This probably will be the last game that the national guardsmen will appear in several weeks for they entrain for Camp Douglas and the annual encampment Saturday morning.

WASHINGTON WON'T RELEASE CALLOW TO U OF PENNSYLVANIA

Western Authorities Ask Rusty to Reconsider His Resignation

Seattle, Wash.—Efforts will be made to get Russell S. Callow, crew coach of the University of Washington, to reconsider his resignation, received by mail here today, the board of control of the associated students, decided after refusing to release Callow from his contract, which has two years to run.

Callow requested the board to release him Sept. 1, 1927, when he planned to take charge of the University of Pennsylvania crew team, one of the biggest salaries paid a crew coach in the United States. The exact amount has not been announced, but reports have placed it between $10,000 and $15,000. Callow was receiving $6,000 here.

The attitude of the board of control was unexpected, as it was anticipated that Callow's request to be released from his contract would be granted without question. Last year Callow signed a three-year contract with the University of Washington, although athletic authorities of eastern institutions tried to entice him away from the west at that time.

He became head crew coach Washington in 1923, when Coach I. Leader went to Yale. Callow's varsity crews won the intercollegiate championship at Poughkeepsie in 1923, 1924 and 1925, and were second in 1925 at 1927.

In a letter accompanying his resignation, Callow attempted to throw his mantle upon the shoulders of J. Ubrichson, who has been Callow's assistant since he was graduated from the University of Washington in 1924.

Jungle Breath

© 1927 by NEA Service Ben Lucien Burman

THIS HAS HAPPENED
LINCOLN NUNNALLY, elderly American chemist, mysteriously summoned to the queer little jungle-bordered town of PORTO VERDE, in west central Brazil, encounters an old friend, VILAK, who tells him it was he who had sent for him.

Vilak's cousin, ELISE MARBERRY, an American girl, owns a coffee plantation and other land near Porto Verde and has received mysterious warnings to get out of the country. Vilak is alarmed, because several deaths already have occurred and the superstitions natives think some supernatural force is at work.

The day Nunnally arrives another man is killed, TONY BARBETTA, one of Elise Marberry's foremen. He had been hit with a club in the hands of LIMEY POTTS, another foreman. Before he died a strange paralysis took hold of him, and Vilak confides to Nunnally that he is certain Limey Potts, though he may have struck the victim, was not the murderer.

That evening Vilak induces Nunnally to come with him on a visit to the house of GAYLORD PRENTISS, a reclusive and forbidding man, known to be an enemy of Elise. Vilak believes Prentiss is somehow involved in the mysterious deaths.

Before going to Prentiss' place, Vilak and Nunnally call on Elise Marberry. Vilak refuses to let her go with them. He and Nunnally, on their way to Prentiss' sight a party of natives working on a railroad. Nearby is a fire, though the night is hot. Nunnally regards this as strange.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY
CHAPTER IX
 Their presence had been noticed. One of the laborers, who appeared to be a sort of foreman, walked behind a dilapidated freight car on a siding. He recomposed in a moment, followed by an immaculately white-limbed individual, whose bearing immediately marked him as the chief. His skin was dark, but it was the tan that comes from long exposure to the tropical sun, his face was well molded, the nose, long but thin, the mouth sensitive and small. On his upper lip was a small, carefully trimmed mustache. He was obviously a white man, and judging by the blackness of his hair and the perfection of his diction, a high caste Portuguese.

He bowed politely to the visitors. "You would wish something, cavalheiros?" he asked. His manner was unmistakably that of one who could be as much at ease at some stately reception in one of the European capitals as here with twenty-five section hands in the jungle of Porto Verde.

"Nothing, cavalheiro," Vilak replied with equal urbanity. "We merely ride, see the torcheiros, and walk over to look. You come to protect the tracks from the rising river?"

"Yes, senhor. We come from Avilios." He pulled a leaf off a palm tree and began fanning himself. "At Avilios there is fear that the floods will be very bad. Many think the great dam will burst. I hope it is not so. It is not pretty, a flood. Nor cheap. It costs us on the railroad much money. Many, many reis. And it is not a great railroad which runs only a few hundred kilometers to the coffee plantations and the English men's mines in the mountains. Nor is it rich. Each year in the rainy season we come. Here I will raise a track, there I will make strong a bridge, here I will drive a pile. And perhaps shall I start to survey a new line, one which shall go from Porto Verde to Santa Cruz. They talk of this, but yet I do not know."

"Do you think you will be here long?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "Two weeks, a month perhaps. I cannot say. There is much to do."

An altercation broke out between two of the laborers driving a stake. One of them jerked out a knife. The Portuguese hurried over. Coolly quickly he snatched it away; the argument ended. "They are troublesome, my villains," he said, as he returned to the visitors. "No worse are there in all Brazil. But on the railroad we take what we can."

Vilak offered him a cigarette. The other took it. They chatted amiably way over the wet stones. They saw two faint glimmerings of light which as they moved forward, they perceived came from two small stone lamps burning smokily over the gate of a high stone wall. "Why here he the lamps?" the old man asked. "And they're singular lamps. Yes . . . or . . . singular."

Vilak did not answer. He was interestedly looking between the heavy iron bars which formed the massive gate to the dwelling a few hundred feet beyond. They could see it clearly now, a long, low building, its flatness broken by three short squat towers. Even in the moonlight its dilapidated condition was apparent. A fourth tower near the front had fallen and, bringing down the surrounding walls, had left a gaping hole as though the structure had suffered an operation at the hands of an unskillful surgeon. Half the windows were broken and nailed up with boards. One wing was entirely in ruins, only a few broken boards remaining to mark its walls.

There were few signs of decay, however, about the wall through whose gate they were peering, a wall which, massive and lofty, apparently completely encircled the neglected residence. It was so old that in places it was almost obliterated by dense growths of vines. But there were no signs, no bulges indicative of weakness in the ponderous stones which formed it; they were as securely fixed to one another as they had first been set there by the mason years before.

The detail, however, which caught the chemist's attention, was the half of wire fencing, which had been newly fastened to the top of the wall to a distance of three or four feet above it, meshed so closely that it would have barred the way to any creature larger than a squirrel. The bars of the spiked gate, of the same height at the wall, were protected in like manner. Two heavy iron cross-bars showed along the inside.

"It's a . . . fortress. A positive fortress," the old man murmured. "Has he all this merely to . . . er . . . keep out . . . er . . . keep out visitors?"

"If you ask me another question in the next minutes I shall be put to the unpleasant necessity of sending you home, my dear Nanny," Vilak declared. "If I knew the purpose back of the recent improvements on this wall, I wouldn't be here investigating. Incidentally, this is the place where the mustiff came out and attacked Elise. Be on your guard I'll agree with you that this is an excellent wall. Old Prentiss put it up. He was an eccentric old devil. Like father, like son. Though in those days there was some need for a wall like this. Even wilder here than it is now and it was a very definite protection. Every house of consequence had something of the sort. Seems to me they still need walls as far as any improvement in the population goes. Old Prentiss in particular had to have something to keep out unwelcome visitors. He was always getting into trouble with the natives, or his European neighbors, or even the government. Almost stood a siege here once, I've heard. The son had that new wire put on about two months ago, shortly after Elise's first visit to him. Had it sent up from Rio. Must have cost a good bit of money."

He bent over, ran a finger along the edge of the ponderous gate, and gave a high voltage current I might believe it, except for the fact that the only respectable dynamo in the neighborhood is on Elise's plantation and I know he's not getting power from that. Still he might have rigged up something. We'd better be careful!"

He withdrew a small wire from his pocket and began to pick the massive lock. As he did so, the brush on the other side of the creek crackled loudly. Both men started.

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter a call is made on the curious Prentiss, whose actions grow more baffling than ever.

The art of glass-making was practiced in 2500 B. C. by inhabitants of the Euphrates Valley, who sold glass beads to the Egyptians.

CHEMIST IN ROLE OF SLEUTH SOLVES MAIL BANDIT CASE

Sherlock Holmes Outdone by
San Francisco Savant's
Deductions

San Francisco.—A quiet, studious instructor in chemistry at the University of California—the last person in the world one would have picked as a relentless man hunter—stands revealed to day as the super-detective whose work brought about the arrest of the three D'Autremont brothers, who bombed a mail train and killed four men in the Oregon mountains in the fall of 1923.

The man is Prof. Edward Oscar Heinrich. In real life he did work that rivals the fabled exploits of Sherlock Holmes.

Hugh, Ray and Roy D'Autremont fled into the Siskiyou mountains after blowing up a mail car and killing four men. No man had seen them. Behind them they left only four very slender clues—a revolver, a knapsack containing overhauled, a pair of greasy overalls and a magneto which had set off the explosive that wrecked the mail car.

TOLD THE WHOLE STORY
Inspectors of the postal service took these clues to Prof. Heinrich. He examined them minutely—and then, in true Sherlock Holmes fashion, announced:

One of the killers was brown haired, left-handed, about 25 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, heavy set, neat in his personal habits, and a former worker in the lumber camps of Oregon and Washington.

The overhauled, soaked in creosote, had been worn to throw bloodhounds off the track. In the knapsack that contained them were found several grains of rock salt. Prof. Heinrich pointed out that this indicated the bandits had used a cattleman's cabin as a rendezvous. The inspectors looked for such a building near the scene of the crime.

Then, deep in an overall pocket, was found a faded bit of paper. Prof. Heinrich put this under the microscope and found it was a postal money order receipt. He was able to make-out its number, and postal inspectors, tracing it, found it had been issued to one of the D'Autremonts.

With all of these facts at their disposal, the postal inspectors had something to go on in their hunt. They promptly began to go through the north woods lumber camps, questioning foremen and gang bosses.

Presently their search was rewarded. Near Eugene, Ore., they found a camp from which three brothers, known as ranchals, had disappeared shortly before the holdup. These three were the brothers D'Autremont.

The inspectors soon were in possession of photographs and complete descriptions of them.

But still the hunt had only started. Although the inspectors were fairly sure of the identity of the slayers, they were not the faintest idea of where they were.

THROUGH WORK
Now comes a revelation of the thoroughness with which postal inspectors run down a fugitive.

Two and a half million circulars containing photographs and complete descriptions of the fugitives were printed and mailed throughout the world. Every postoffice in the United States displayed these posters. Dentists were sent charts describing the fillings in the D'Autremonts' teeth; optometrists were sent descriptions of their glasses; every public library in the country received a circular and a warning that the men often went to libraries to read radical literature.

Hugh D'Autremont was the first to fall into the net. He had enlisted in the army and was serving in the Philippines. A soldier in his company saw one of the posters and noticed the resemblance. When this soldier's enlistment expired, he reported his suspicions to postal authorities. An inspector went to Manila and arrested Hugh.

SEIZED IN OHIO CITY
Ray and Roy had located in Steubenville, O., where they were working in a steel mill. Someone there saw the posters, became suspicious and notified the postal men. The inspectors came and investigated quickly. For weeks they stayed in Steubenville, watching. At length they were convinced that the two men were fugitives. Ray and Roy were arrested. Hugh was on trial at the time. The jury found him guilty, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment. Ray and Roy, who had been preparing to fight, acquiesced, changed their minds, pleaded guilty and were sent to prison for life. The case that had taken so long to solve was solved.

The postal inspectors, like the famous Northwest Mounted, always "net" their man.

But in this case a lion's share of the credit must go to Prof. Heinrich, who in real life outdid the glittering deductions of Sherlock Holmes.

RACINE INDUSTRIES HAVE 2 CRASHES IN TWO DAYS
Racine.—(AP)—Racine industries experienced two serious crashes within the past 48 hours, both being marked by a miraculous escape of women workers. Tuesday's crashing of a wall of the Model laundry while excavators were at work on the property adjoining, endangered the lives of girls operating mangling machines, they were warned in time to allow them to get out of the danger zone as the wall and a portion of the roof collapsed.

Late Wednesday a large wooden water tank, elevated 30 feet over the roof of the office and boiler room of the Belle City Basket company, toppled over, striking the wall of an adjoining building where a dozen girls were working and emptying its contents through the opening and flooding two floors.

The tank then fell to the roof of the office, crashed through it and carried away a large part of the office floor to the basement where the tank was broken into many pieces. The girl bookkeeper, had left the office a moment before.

Charles Kannenberg, plant manager, was about to step into the office to use the telephone as the crash occurred.

Washington.—(AP)—W. K. Sparrow, chief financial officer for the receiver, now controlling the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad was cross examined Thursday at hearings before the interstate commerce commission on the road's reorganization plan. ## Markets

ADVANCES NOTED ON STOCK MARKET

Baldwin Opens at 238 1/4
Which Is a New High Record

New York.—(AP)—Prices moved in rather a prosaic way at the opening of the stock market today, with advances in the majority. Baldwin opened about 1 point higher at 238 1/4, a new high.

Buying broadened gradually as the session progressed with demand centering in the clear and a few miscellaneous shares. Operators for the advance continued to derive confidence from easy money conditions and the enormous reinvestment demand. Foreign exchange opened steady; demand sterling ruling close to 4.55 1/2 and French francs above 20.

Overcrowding of the long position in certain stocks caused some selling especially in the General Electric Consolidated deal accompanied by a spurt in the merger railroads Chicago and North Western, Illinois Central, St. Louis, St. Paul and Northern Pacific, and Southern Railway. Some of the buying was buoyant. Collins and Alkman bought 7 points and Real Silk hosiery 1/2.

Dropping off the renewal rate on call loans from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent accentuated the rise in a wide variety of industrials.

The closing was firm. The Dodge Brothers and Pierce Arrow issues were fed out steadily in the final hour, concurrently with a rise in General Motors and Jordan to the best figures by the day. General Electric also reflected active profit taking. Total sales approximated 1,600 shares.

It was completely demolished and Mr. Mole, who was sitting in the front seat beside his wife, was thrown through the windshield. The truck also was badly damaged.
The occupants of the Illinois car were taken to St. Elizabeth hospital but all were released except the boy who will be confined for some time.

Old Family Album Is Coming Back To Vogue

A return of the old family picture album in a new coat to replace the famous red plush has been heralded by photographers. Again, it is said, the family pictures will be found on the parlor table or some other appropriate place for guests to amuse themselves while they wait.
Since the red plush album was discarded old fashioned and relegated to the attic by younger generations photographers have successfully been seen on the living room table, the piano, the back living room, the bed room, and then perhaps in some forgotten drawer. Photographs as part of the house decorations have been growing out of date, so those in the business

TOONEN ASKS BOARDS OF REVIEW TO DEFER MEETINGS

Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes, has notified boards of review of all cities, villages and towns with banks in Outagamie-co to adjourn until July 18 or 25, pending further legislative action on bill 444, putting banks on an income tax basis. Both houses had passed the bill but recalled it when the legislature voted last week to adjourn until July 11.
The bill was withdrawn because the governor has only six days in which to sign or veto it, and if anything developed concerning the measure, no action could be taken, once the governor disposed of it. The recall does not indicate in any way what the final disposition of the bill will be.
Mr. Toonen's letters to the boards of review were sent at the request of Charles D. Rosa of the Wisconsin Tax commission.

DON'T HAVE TO BE WITNESS TO MAKE TRAFFIC ARRESTS

Attorney General Holds Traffic Cop Doesn't Have to Be a Witness

Madison — (P)—Officers arresting traffic violators on the highways of the state need not necessarily have witnessed the violation, the attorney general held in an opinion made public. It was issued to C. Arthur Johnson, district attorney, Ashland.
It said: "A special highway patrolman may arrest for violations of any law relating to the use or maintenance of highways when the crime is committed in his presence or the arrest is made at the request of a special highway patrolman, sheriff, constable or other police officer who witnessed the offense."

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Roaches and Ants

Doctors declare that bed-bugs, roaches and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no distance in getting bed-bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

We Have It! The Goodyear All-Weather Balloon

Goodyear's scientifically designed All-Weather tread matches the Goodyear Balloon Carcass (made of Supertwist cord-)

It is scientifically designed for Balloon Tire use.

The sharp-edged diamond-shaped blocks are placed in a semi-flat design. They grip the road, they retain their usefulness longer than any non-skid tread offered heretofore.

Long, slow, even tread wear is assured as opposed to the "cupping" and uneven wear so noticeable in many other Balloon Tires.

And with these advantages of traction, non-skid and long wear, this tread is perfectly quiet and does not produce vibration.

Let us show you this tire. We have your size.
